Frank Robinson's Widow To Testify At Smith Trial

Mrs. Frank Robinson, widow of the former water department superintendent, was slated to testify today in Common Pleas Court at Lisbon in the trial of Roberta C. Smith, ex-chief accused of a $23,841 embezzlement.

Mrs. Robinson, of Morton St., was summoned as a rebuttal witness by Prosecutor G. William Brokaw along with other city residents, including Frank O'Hanlon, County Election Board clerk, and Harold Peterson, water department distribution foreman.

Miss Smith has maintained that her covering up of water department losses in 1959-61 was done at the instruction of Mr. Robinson.

She returned to the witness stand this morning for resumption of a searching cross examination by Prosecutor Brokaw.

Miss Smith, of Fairmont St., who admits juggling customer bill stubs to hide the shortages but denies taking any money, returned to the witness stand for further questioning.

The 40-year-old former chief clerk was on the stand for two hours Thursday to relate her version of fund shortages uncovered by a state examiner in November 1961.

Questioned by Atty. Frank Springer, her counsel, she said she began withholding the bill stubs at the direction of Mr. Robinson, then superintendent, after some $10,900 in deposits was discovered missing from the office vault in September 1959.

She maintained she does not believe Mr. Robinson — who died last year — was connected with the money loss.

Nor does she know what happened to the other $12,000 unaccounted for in the official audit of the department's books, according to her testimony Thursday.

Wearing a black dress and black sweater, Miss Smith resumed testimony at 9:45 a. m. today.

She told Prosecutor Brokaw she never had destroyed any bills or invoices, but said that it would be possible for a clerk to do so and "get away with it."

Brokaw asked if, since large proportions of deposits were in checks, what happened to the checks which were among the $11,000 taken from the office vault in September, 1959.

She said she didn't know if there were checks in the loss.

He pressed her again on what happened to the checks and asked: "Are you saying some one took the checks and cashed them?"

"I'm not saying anything about what happened — I just don't know."

Asked if the deposit slips for the sum lost were not also marked on the cash book at the office, she said she had erased figures in the book.

Brokaw continued to quiz her on detalis of the withholding of customer's stubs as the noon recess approached.

The trial is expected to go to the jury Tuesday.

The trial, which began last Monday was recessed Friday by Judge Joel H. Sharp to permit him to handle other court business.

The jury includes:

Annabelle Guy and Dorothy Keller of East Palestine; Nevada Laitsch, Floyd Shaw and Corene Thiemecke of East Liverpool; George Smart of Wellsville, Edith Caudill, Mary Gregg, Ruth Schmid and Edna Fenneman of Salem; Freda Feldman of Salineville and Harold Roberts of Columbiana. Officers Hit Rio Club

Slots, Dice And Liquor Taken In Hancock Raid

Patrons Cut 6 Tires On Police Cars

Alleged Proprietor Struck By Gun Butt During Struggle

Operating with search and seizure warrants, three Hancock County constables raided a gaming casino on Route 30 east of Chester early Sunday morning, making one arrest and confiscating slot machines, dice and a large quantity of whisky.

The raid at the Rio Club, located behind the Cactus Bar, was marked by a warning shot to quell an unruly crowd of patrons, a struggle between the operator and a law enforcement officer and alleged threats to kill those responsible for the action.

Angry at having their gaming money seized by the officers, some of the patrons slipped outside and slashed the tires of the cars of the constables.

Sheriff's deputies, Chester Police Chief Clarence Lennens and a West Virginia state police officer from Weirton rushed to the scene after the raid, when the crowd threatened bodily harm to the raiding party.

Man Hit On Head

No one was injured seriously, but William Watson, reputed owner of the Rio Club, was struck on the head by a pistol while scuffling with one of the constables during the raid.

J. Carl Durham of Newell, Harold Davis of Chester and Sam Swain of New Cumberland, county constables, forced their way into the casino at 4:15 a. m. Sunday after following two prospective customers to the door.

The Rio Club is located in a building directly behind the Cactus Bar and has a separate entrance that is guarded closely by a doorman, who checks identities of prospective patrons, the constables said.

60 Patrons Found

There were 60 patrons in the building and a barbout game was in progress at a large table, they said. While the officers were making their way into the room, they apparently were seen and someone was heard to shout: "There's a fight at the door."

Then several patrons scooped up their money from the barbout table and started toward the entrance, congesting the doorway where the officers were struggling to get inside.

The constables said the room suddenly became quiet and peaceful once they fought their way to the gaming table, where they seized $59.45 as the players looked on.

Watson then arrived through a door from the basement and immediately tried to incite the crowd to "throw the constables out," the officers said. About 15 patrons responded to Watson's challenge, the officers said.

Threats Reported

A scuffle then ensued, with Watson attempting to seize the search warrants and threatening to tear them into pieces, the constables said.

Watson rushed at Constable Durham in attempting to obtain the warrants and they struggled against a wall.

Constable Davis, who had been behind the bar confiscating whisky, came out to confront the patrons who were rushing to a hallway where Durham and Watson were wrestling.

Constable Swain, guarding a door, was holding the cash that had been scooped from the gaming table. He spilled some in the excitement, but no attempts were

Tenseness Mounting In Youngstown

Probe Continues Into Bombing That Claimed Two Lives

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP)—On a wall in the lineup room of the Youngstown police station are large photographs of 11 men said to be suspected members of the Mafia. Until a week ago there were 12.

The man whose picture has come down was Charles Cavallaro, who claimed to be a salesman of grapes used to make wine.

He was known to police as "Cadillac Charlie." He was killed, along with his 11-year-old son, Thomas, at 11:30 a.m., Nov. 23, by a bomb rigged to the ignition system of his car. Another son, Charles Jr., 12, was so seriously injured by the blast equivalent to 10 sticks of dynamite that doctors are not sure he'll ever walk again.

Police believe Cavallaro, 60, was involved in operation of a high stakes dice game, which took in an estimated $5,000 a week until closed down as the aftermath of the bombing deaths. Cavallaro also was reported to have had a percentage of the cigarette vending machine business in this area.

Why Cavallaro was marked for death, by whom and who was called upon for the actual murder now is drawing the full-time investigative attention of local detectives and more than a score of federal agents.

"We believe this was a revenge murder," says Police Chief William R. Golden. He is convinced the Mafia in Youngstown is part of a nationwide syndicate of crime. Federal officials are less sure of that.

One theory being advanced for Cavallaro's murder is that he ordered someone out of a share of profits from the dice game known as Barbut (pronounced Bar-boot'). This game attracts up to 300 persons and often lasts from 11 p.m. until 4 p.m. the next day, a source reports.

The Cavallaro sons were unintentional victims, officials believe but that they were soaked in the underworld blood battle has shocked one and all in this eastern Ohio industrial center of 175,000.

There have been 82 bombings in a 30-mile radius of Youngstown since October 1951. Most involved trucking firms, small stores, politicians and racketeers and were that police call "warnings." In general, nothing more than bricks and windows were smashed. The first fatality occurred in May 1959. The bullet and booby-trap auto bomb have accounted for 10 more deaths since.

Everyone — including Police Chief Golden and Mayor Harry Savasten—feels relieved that the FBI has moved into the investigation.

Golden, a 33-year veteran of the police force, maintains his men are doing the best job they can in fighting crime, but he mentions harassment in courts as one problem. He currently is faced with a $50,000 false arrest suit.

"We have no supermen in our department," the 65-year-old chief says. "We can't stop this until people stop betting."

The chief, who earns $10,000 a year, says his men's pay is lower than it ought to be. And he admits he can't vouch for the complete honesty of each of the 279 men in his department, but adds heatedly:

"If I ever find any of my men with his hand out, I'll break his arm."

The root of the evil in the Mahoning Valley area, knowledgeable sources agree, is gambling and the division of the spoils, which amounts to an estimated

Soviets Begin To Pull Their Jets In Cuba

First Of Bombers Now In Process Of Being Withdrawn

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Russians have begun taking their IL28 bombers out of Cuba, the Defense Department announced today.

Asst. Secretary of Defense Arthur Sylvester announced that the first of a reported 30 or more twin-jet bombers are in the process of being withdrawn.

Photographs taken by U.S. patrol planes indicate that the Russian ship Okhotsk was moving off the northern coast of Cuba on Saturday with three bomber fuselages visible on its deck, Sylvester told a news conference.

'ONE-ARMED BANDIT' SEIZED. This slot machine and another like it were confiscated by three Hancock County constables in a surprise raid on the Rio Club behind the Cactus Bar early Sunday morning. An adding machine and what appears to be cases of liquor outfitted in Christmas wrappings can also be seen in the photo, snapped by Constable Harold Davis, one of the raiding party. The slot machines were of the 25-cent variety and were turned over to West Virginia State Police with other confiscated gaming equipment.

Polio Vaccine Given 18,316

Hancock Joins With 7-County Program

A total of 18,316 Hancock Countians received Sabin oral polio vaccine Sunday as part of a mass program held in seven counties in West Virginia and Ohio.

One of the 78 immunization clinics was in New Cumberland, where 2,592 showed up to take the vaccine on lumps of sugar.

At another clinic at the Stanton Local High School in Hammondsville, 785 persons were immunized.

Health officials said 250,000 persons participated in the "Sabin Sunday" project at 78 locations in the seven counties. They ranged in age from babies to 93 years.

The clinics were the first step in a three-part immunization program undertaken by medical societies in Ohio, Brooke, Hancock and Marshal Counties in West Virginia and Jefferson, Belmont and Harrison in Ohio.

The New Cumberland clinic was held at the Health Department building.

Reports Given President In Key Disputes

Railroad Unions Draft Next Step In Bid To Nip Layoffs

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy gets reports today from two Taft-Hartley law emergency boards he named in stopping strikes by East Coast dock employes and Lockheed aerospace workers.

In another development related to a major labor controversy chiefs of the five operating unions on the nation's railroads gathered here for a huddle to determine their next legal step in fighting worker layoffs threatened by the carriers.

Of the three disputes a renewed strike by the 60,000 dock workers appears to be the most imminent. The workers ended an earlier strike after the administration on Oct. 6 obtained an 80-day injunction under the Taft-Hartley emergency provisions.

The emergency board studying this case is expected to report to the White House that there still is a tight deadlock between the AFL-CIO International Longshoremen's Association, and shipowning and stevedore firms.

The next step will be a vote on the employers' last settlement offer, rejected by the union. A worker turndown of the offer, which officials say they expect, will mean a real threat of a pier strike on Atlantic and Gulf coasts on Dec. 23 when the 80-day injunction runs out.

The Lockheed labor dispute is in an earlier stage of development. Kennedy invoked the Taft-Hartley provisions in this case last Wednesday to end a walkout that had started earlier that day. On Thursday, the striking International Association of Machinists, AFL-CIO, called off its walkout at the government's request.

The report from the Lockheed emergency board is expected simply to recite a negotiating deadlock. It is strictly a formality that, under the law, will enable the government to go ahead with application for an 80-day court injunction barring a further strike.

The time lag will enable government mediators and the special board headed by Prof. Arthur M. Ross, director of the University of California Institute of Industrial Relations, to try new peace moves.

The chief issue in dispute between Lockheed and the machinists is the union's demand for a union shop arrangement, requiring employes to be union members, provided the workers approve the idea by a two-thirds margin. Lockheed has declined to permit such a poll or be bound by its outcome.

The rail dispute has been a continuing one all year. The carriers are trying to abolish up to 65,000 jobs they claim are now obsolete. Still another White House board recommended more gradual reduction, originally confined to locomotive firemen. The unions have been resisting any layoffs.

$3,000 Blaze Damages Old Newell House

Fire partially destroyed one of the oldest dwellings in Newell Sunday morning at 10:30 while the occupants were away, Newell volunteer firemen reported.

All the furniture and most of the possessions of the Warren Boughner family of Jefferson St. Ext. were lost in the blaze, firemen said.

Damage was estimated at $3,000. Firemen were unable to say if the loss is covered by insurance.

Originally erected as a log cabin, the dwelling had been renovated over the years, including the addition of shingles on the exterior. Firemen said it is one of the oldest homes in Newell.

The fire, apparently caused by defective wiring, broke out in the dining room of the one - story frame home. It was discovered by Deputy Roger Cline of the Hancock County sheriff's office, who was cruising in the area.

Boughner was deer hunting and his wife and two daughters and a son were attending church services in Ohioview when the fire broke out.

Firemen said Mrs. Boughner collapsed from shock when she arrived at the scene. Oxygen was administered by firemen. She later was taken to City Hospital for treatment.

The two girls are 5 and 2 and the boy is 4. Firemen asked that residents donate clothing for the youngsters. The possessions not actually burned were damaged by the smoke and water, firemen said.

Fifteen firemen responded to the alarm with two trucks and an emergency car. Deputy Cline notified the sheriff's office after spotting the fire, and the call was relayed to the Newell station.

Firemen said the home was valued a $6,000.

Chief Charles Lee announced firemen will meet tonight at 6 at the station. A general cleanup of the station will start before the meeting, with the walls of the hall to be scrubbed and the garage to be painted.

New Relay Satellite To Follow 'Telstar'

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Relay satellite will be launched next week from Cape Canaveral to pave the way for a second exchange of live television programs with Europe.

Relay will follow in the footsteps of Telstar, used last summer for the initial swap of television shows across the Atlantic. This time, there's a chance the exchange may be three-sided with the possible inclusion of South America.

The planned launching was mentioned Sunday on a televised interview — "Youth Wants to Know"—by Newton N. Minow, chairman of the Federal Communications Commission, and confirmed by a spokesman for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

The NASA official said a Thor-Delta missile will be used and that relay will travel in a somewhat higher orbit than Telstar.

Thinned Out, Nehru Says Of Chinese Units

Troops Have Not Been Withdrawn, Premier Declares

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — Prime Minister Nehru told Parliament today the Chinese Communists may have thinned out the advance units of their invasion armies, but they have not withdrawn them.

The Chinese reported their troops had pulled back in at least one sector in partial fulfillment of Peking's one-sided cease-fire proclamation. Indian sources reported apparent withdrawal in another sector.

Nehru, however, told Parliament there were "signs of withdrawal in the rear—in the front positions they might have been thinned out, but they have not withdrawn."

He added that "the position is rather confused and therefore it is not easy to make a precise statement."

Two members of Nehru's Cabinet vowed an eventual resumption of the battle rather than acceptance of Peking's terms. India's frontline commanders took a gingerly approach to the delicate situation.

In other developments:

1. The Indian Communist party endorsed Nehru's position for settlement of the undeclared war.

Truck Drifts And Hits Pole

Street Light Circuit Snapped In Crash

A dairy truck was damaged extensively and a street light circuit was knocked out early this morning when the truck drifted backward from its parking place on steep E. 9th St. and crashed into a utility pole.

Police said the crash damaged the entire rear of the 1951 truck owned by Azdell Dairy, Inc., damaged the utility pole and meter box and loosened wires.

Byron D. Elliott, 24, of New Cumberland R. D. 2 told police he was making a delivery when the truck drifted about 35 feet along the curb on the east side of E. 9th St. before veering across the street and striking the utility pole at the intersection of Green Ln.

Elliott said he had cut the rear wheels into the curb and disengaged the transmission with the engine idling when the truck started to drift.

A spokesman for the Ohio Power Co. said no service was interrupted but the street light system in the area may have been knocked out about 30 minutes before it was to be turned off. The crash was timed at 6:32 a. m.

Firemen were called to standby and summoned a utility crew.

U.S. Officers Map Drive To End Village's Revolt

ABERDEEN, S.D. (AP)—Federal Marshals meet here tonight to map strategy for their invasion of Mound City, a village where zealous town folk and farmers threaten "another Mississippi" to keep from turning over government records they have locked in a barricaded building.

The county Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service office was moved this year from Mound City, the county seat with a population of less than 200, to Herreid, population 633, eight miles north.

Half of the records were moved to the new ASCS building in Herreid, but Mound City area folks foiled attempts to take the rest. They locked the ASCS office and sandbagged the front. They threatened to fight if anyone comes for the records.

For years Mound City has been wary of any thought of moving the county seat. Mound City fears that if the ASCS records go to Herreid, the courthouse may be the next to go.

"If they call the U.S. marshals out, someone might get his head blown off," one Mound City businessman said. A farmer said Mound City will never give up its fight to keep the ASCS office.

"The government is trying to scare us," he said. "We've been through too much to get scared."

Many people in Mound City have a financial interest in the outcome of the battle. They are shareholders in the new building that houses the local postoffice and the former ASCS office.

Travis Lewin of Sioux Falls, assistant U.S. district attorney, met with more than 200 Mound City farmers and their wives Saturday night. He said marshals will be sent unless the records are surrendered.

Lewin told the group, gathered in the grade school gymnasium, "if we can't voluntarily get the records we will have to send marshals in. If someone attempts to stop the marshals—and you know what happened in Mississippi—the marshals will be required to take steps to protect themselves."

He advised the Mound City people, "if you want to fight, fight it legally."

One theory being advanced for Cavallaro's murder is that he ordered someone out of a share of profits from the dice game known as Barbut (pronounced Bar-boot'). This game attracts up to 300 persons and often lasts from 11 p.m. until 4 p.m. the next day, a source reports.

The Cavallaro sons were unintentional victims, officials believe but that they were soaked in the underworld blood battle has shocked one and all in this eastern Ohio industrial center of 175,000.

There have been 82 bombings in a 30-mile radius of Youngstown since October 1951. Most involved trucking firms, small stores, politicians and racketeers and were that police call "warnings." In general, nothing more than bricks and windows were smashed. The first fatality occurred in May 1959. The bullet and booby-trap auto bomb have accounted for 10 more deaths since.

Everyone — including Police Chief Golden and Mayor Harry Savasten—feels relieved that the FBI has moved into the investigation.

Golden, a 33-year veteran of the police force, maintains his men are doing the best job they can in fighting crime, but he mentions harassment in courts as one problem. He currently is faced with a $50,000 false arrest suit.

"We have no supermen in our department," the 65-year-old chief says. "We can't stop this until people stop betting."

The chief, who earns $10,000 a year, says his men's pay is lower than it ought to be. And he admits he can't vouch for the complete honesty of each of the 279 men in his department, but adds heatedly:

"If I ever find any of my men with his hand out, I'll break his arm."

The root of the evil in the Mahoning Valley area, knowledgeable sources agree, is gambling and the division of the spoils, which amounts to an estimated

Soviets Begin To Pull Their Jets In Cuba

First Of Bombers Now In Process Of Being Withdrawn

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Russians have begun taking their IL28 bombers out of Cuba, the Defense Department announced today.

Asst. Secretary of Defense Arthur Sylvester announced that the first of a reported 30 or more twin-jet bombers are in the process of being withdrawn.

Photographs taken by U.S. patrol planes indicate that the Russian ship Okhotsk was moving off the northern coast of Cuba on Saturday with three bomber fuselages visible on its deck, Sylvester told a news conference.

Polio Vaccine Given 18,316

Hancock Joins With 7-County Program

A total of 18,316 Hancock Countians received Sabin oral polio vaccine Sunday as part of a mass program held in seven counties in West Virginia and Ohio.

One of the 78 immunization clinics was in New Cumberland, where 2,592 showed up to take the vaccine on lumps of sugar.

At another clinic at the Stanton Local High School in Hammondsville, 785 persons were immunized.

Health officials said 250,000 persons participated in the "Sabin Sunday" project at 78 locations in the seven counties. They ranged in age from babies to 93 years.

The clinics were the first step in a three-part immunization program undertaken by medical societies in Ohio, Brooke, Hancock and Marshal Counties in West Virginia and Jefferson, Belmont and Harrison in Ohio.

The New Cumberland clinic was held at the Health Department building.

U Thant Says West Fails To See Change

BALTIMORE (AP) — U Thant, secretary-general of the United Nations, says Western leaders have not responded to a change in the political climate of the Soviet Union.

'ONE-ARMED BANDIT' SEIZED. This slot machine and another like it were confiscated by three Hancock County constables in a surprise raid on the Rio Club behind the Cactus Bar early Sunday morning. An adding machine and what appears to be cases of liquor outfitted in Christmas wrappings can also be seen in the photo, snapped by Constable Harold Davis, one of the raiding party. The slot machines were of the 25-cent variety and were turned over to West Virginia State Police with other confiscated gaming equipment.

U.S. Officers Map Drive To End Village's Revolt

ABERDEEN, S.D. (AP)—Federal Marshals meet here tonight to map strategy for their invasion of Mound City, a village where zealous town folk and farmers threaten "another Mississippi" to keep from turning over government records they have locked in a barricaded building.

The county Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service office was moved this year from Mound City, the county seat with a population of less than 200, to Herreid, population 633, eight miles north.

Half of the records were moved to the new ASCS building in Herreid, but Mound City area folks foiled attempts to take the rest. They locked the ASCS office and sandbagged the front. They threatened to fight if anyone comes for the records.

For years Mound City has been wary of any thought of moving the county seat. Mound City fears that if the ASCS records go to Herreid, the courthouse may be the next to go.

"If they call the U.S. marshals out, someone might get his head blown off," one Mound City businessman said. A farmer said Mound City will never give up its fight to keep the ASCS office.

"The government is trying to scare us," he said. "We've been through too much to get scared."

Many people in Mound City have a financial interest in the outcome of the battle. They are shareholders in the new building that houses the local postoffice and the former ASCS office.

Travis Lewin of Sioux Falls, assistant U.S. district attorney, met with more than 200 Mound City farmers and their wives Saturday night. He said marshals will be sent unless the records are surrendered.

Lewin told the group, gathered in the grade school gymnasium, "if we can't voluntarily get the records we will have to send marshals in. If someone attempts to stop the marshals—and you know what happened in Mississippi—the marshals will be required to take steps to protect themselves."

He advised the Mound City people, "if you want to fight, fight it legally."

Alleged Proprietor Struck By Gun Butt During Struggle

Operating with search and seizure warrants, three Hancock County constables raided a gaming casino on Route 30 east of Chester early Sunday morning, making one arrest and confiscating slot machines, dice and a large quantity of whisky.

The raid at the Rio Club, located behind the Cactus Bar, was marked by a warning shot to quell an unruly crowd of patrons, a struggle between the operator and a law enforcement officer and alleged threats to kill those responsible for the action.

Angry at having their gaming money seized by the officers, some of the patrons slipped outside and slashed the tires of the cars of the constables.

Sheriff's deputies, Chester Police Chief Clarence Lennens and a West Virginia state police officer from Weirton rushed to the scene after the raid, when the crowd threatened bodily harm to the raiding party.

Man Hit On Head

No one was injured seriously, but William Watson, reputed owner of the Rio Club, was struck on the head by a pistol while scuffling with one of the constables during the raid.

J. Carl Durham of Newell, Harold Davis of Chester and Sam Swain of New Cumberland, county constables, forced their way into the casino at 4:15 a. m. Sunday after following two prospective customers to the door.

The Rio Club is located in a building directly behind the Cactus Bar and has a separate entrance that is guarded closely by a doorman, who checks identities of prospective patrons, the constables said.

60 Patrons Found

There were 60 patrons in the building and a barbout game was in progress at a large table, they said. While the officers were making their way into the room, they apparently were seen and someone was heard to shout: "There's a fight at the door."

Then several patrons scooped up their money from the barbout table and started toward the entrance, congesting the doorway where the officers were struggling to get inside.

The constables said the room suddenly became quiet and peaceful once they fought their way to the gaming table, where they seized $59.45 as the players looked on.

Watson then arrived through a door from the basement and immediately tried to incite the crowd to "throw the constables out," the officers said. About 15 patrons responded to Watson's challenge, the officers said.

Threats Reported

A scuffle then ensued, with Watson attempting to seize the search warrants and threatening to tear them into pieces, the constables said.

Watson rushed at Constable Durham in attempting to obtain the warrants and they struggled against a wall.

Constable Davis, who had been behind the bar confiscating whisky, came out to confront the patrons who were rushing to a hallway where Durham and Watson were wrestling.

Constable Swain, guarding a door, was holding the cash that had been scooped from the gaming table. He spilled some in the excitement, but no attempts were made by the patrons to pick it up from the floor.

Raid

The struggle between Constable Durham and the casino operator continued and Watson was struck on the temple with the barrel of the officer's pistol.

Blow Fells Watson

He fell to his knees, but still made an attempt to grab the pistol.

The crowd of patrons pressed closer and Constable Durham fired a shot in the air as a warning to stay back. The bullet ripped harmlessly through the ceiling.

Many patrons fled from the building as someone switched off the lights, plunging the room into darkness. The constables related they used their flashlights to find the light switches and turned the lights on again.

Several persons remained in the building shouting threats and daring the officers to go outside. There were threats of "killing us if we went outside," the constables said.

Constable Davis announced he "would go outside when I am ready to go outside." He then huddled with his two fellow officers and it was decided to broadcast a radio call for aid from county law enforcement agencies.

"I thought the crowd might rush back in the building and somebody would get hurt," Davis said later.

6 Tires Slashed

When they left the building, the constables found the angry patrons had retaliated by slashing all four tires on Constable Durham's car and puncturing two others on the car of Constable Davis. The auto used by Constable Swain was unmarked and was not damaged.

Aid arrived shortly in the presence of Trooper Charles E. Keyer of the Weirton Detachment of State Police, Chief Lennens of Chester and Deputies Rex Cowey, Roger Cline, John Roefareo, Lester Wehner and James Knox and Irwin Higgs of the county sheriff's office.

Confiscated and hauled away in a large truck were two slot machines of the 25-cent variety, cards and a large quantity of dice, a blackjack table, an electric gaming clock, stools and chairs used at the barbout table, 20 unopened fifths of whisky, 10 partial fifths of whisky and a large quantity of beer.

The 12-x-8 foot barbout table was left in the club by the constables after conferring with Prosecuting Atty. Floyd R. Tarr on its ultimate disposition. It will be confiscated later, as it was too large to move without proper equipment, they said.

Arrested in the raid was John Rushton of 900 Cove Rd., Weirton, doorman at the club. He is charged with being employed as a doorman where gaming devices are exhibited and interfering with an officer.

Rushton posted $100 bond Sunday afternoon at 3:30 before Squire Eugene Allison of Chester for a hearing Thursday night at 7.

The constables said the Rio Club had been under observation for some time and it was decided to pull the raid because of numerous complaints of illegal operations.

Raids Postponed

Raids were previously scheduled on the two preceding Saturday nights, but were postponed.

Squire Allison issued the search and seizure warrants authorizing Constable Durham, Constable Davis and Constable Swain to enter the establishment.

The officers were at the scene until 9:30 Sunday morning loading up the gaming equipment and whisky seized in the raid. It was removed to the State Police office in Weirton.

Constable Durham's personal car was hauled by a wrecker from the scene. The punctured tires on Constable Davis' car were removed at the scene and replaced with spares.

There also were reports circulating that federal agents had been in Chester Saturday morning checking on social security numbers and payroll allotments of card dealers at taverns along Route 30, apparently for income tax purposes. However, this was not believed connected with the weekend raid.

Youngstown

$100,000 a week—or about $5 million a year.

The biggest gambling involves nickels and dimes bet on the numbers, commonly called "The Bug" in Youngstown. Other outlets are bets on horse racing, baseball, football and basketball.

One of the big problems in the investigation is unwillingness of persons to talk for fear of underworld reprisal.

There is an air of tenseness in Youngstown these days. One police officer says to another: "Better check the hood before you start the car." There is no laughter.

It has been learned that the car of the police chief was rigged with a bomb three months ago, but that wiring fizzled before the charge went off. Golden doesn't want to talk about it.

3 Found In Stolen Car By Police In Wellsville

Three men who allegedly had stolen a car about two hours earlier in Salem were picked up in Wellsville Sunday at 8.

Wellsville police apprehended the three at 17th and Main Sts. after a patrolman recognized the car from a broadcast made by the Salem Police.

Nabbed were Phillip Eugene Bixler, 19, of Salem, John Henry Radsick Jr. of Chardon and James Holdereith of Salem. Radsick, 42, was driving, police said. The three immediately were turned over to Salem police.

One of the big problems in the investigation is unwillingness of persons to talk for fear of underworld reprisal.

There is an air of tenseness in Youngstown these days. One police officer says to another: "Better check the hood before you start the car." There is no laughter.

It has been learned that the car of the police chief was rigged with a bomb three months ago, but that wiring fizzled before the charge went off. Golden doesn't want to talk about it.

At police headquarters on the wall where the Mafia pictures are hung, someone has written beneath two of the photographs: "Next?"

3 Found In Stolen Car By Police In Wellsville

Three men who allegedly had stolen a car about two hours earlier in Salem were picked up in Wellsville Sunday at 8.

Wellsville police apprehended the three at 17th and Main Sts. after a patrolman recognized the car from a broadcast made by the Salem Police.

Nabbed were Phillip Eugene Bixler, 19, of Salem, John Henry Radsick Jr. of Chardon and James Holdereith of Salem. Radsick, 42, was driving, police said. The three immediately were turned over to Salem police.

Saved By The Bell

One of the jobs cut out for U.S. Budget Director David E. Bell when he becomes foreign aid administrator next January is to make taxpayers thump with joy about spending billions each year to lift up tottering brothers.

The rest of Mr. Bell's job will be easy. He will be able to get foreign aid past Congress, because that's an old story. Each year the administration asks for much more than it expects to get, screams in anguish when it is forced to settle for less and then lives happily until the next time.

He probably can make inroads on the inefficiency of the monstrosity known as Aid for International Development—AID. Fowler Hamilton who is on the job now was supposed to do something about this and didn't, but he was a lawyer taking a flier in government whereas Mr. Bell is a student of administrative practice, who expects to be around a while.

BUT ABOUT making taxpayers thump with joy about helping people like the late Trujillo in the Dominican Republican and Marshal Tito of Yugoslavia — that's an assignment!

Too many taxpayers know too many things. They know that money never bought a friend. Also that money bestowed on others breeds ingratitude, that money must be earned to be appreciated.

They know that foreign aid money does not filter down to the grass roots like gentle rain from heaven but is sopped up like gravy in pieces of absorbent bread — and that the bread usually is in the hands of politicians in the countries receiving foreign aid.

Experience warns a taxpayer that when money is being ladled out there is a Parkinson's law that causes need to expand to absorb all the money available.

Let it be granted, argue U.S. taxpayers, that foreign aid put a floor under the economic disintegration of countries that were almost desperate enough to fall to communism. Let it be granted that a large part of foreign aid was worth the cost.

But then let it be granted that billions were piddled away and Americans resent this kind of liberality with their money.

FINALLY, let it be granted the time has come to knock off the foreign aid program and the vested job rights of thousands of people who have been making a career of giving away this nation's wealth to countries that wouldn't give the United States the run of their trashpiles if this country were down and out and starving.

If Mr. Bell will do this, AID can be saved—what's left of it, which should be well under a billion a year.

December Countdown

In The Order Of Importance

President Kennedy, whose administration looks with favor on the union shop, has resorted to the Taft-Hartley Act to keep Lockheed Aircraft Corp. from being strike-paralyzed because the International Association of Machinists has gone on strike to get a union shop.

This has become a standard situation—presidents of the United States falling back on the Taft-Hartley Act to save themselves from the consequences of union policies that have been given their approval.

The union shop is anathema to Lockheed management.

The corporation rejects the Kennedy administration principle that the best way to avoid trouble with unions is to give them everything they want, including compulsory unionism.

The corporation contends it has neither the right nor the desire to force an employe to join a union against his own desire. It believes it has no more right to help unions enroll members than to help churches enroll parishioners or fraternal organizations to sign up lodge brothers.

Compulsory unionism is the issue in the Lockheed dispute.

A union shop is compulsory unionism.

The Lockheed dispute is over compulsory unionism, which the Kennedy administration encourages and which was encouraged also under Secretary of Labor Mitchell in the Eisenhower administration.

Yet because Lockheed production is more important than compulsory unionism, President Kennedy is ready to use the Taft-Hartley Act to keep production going.

Would it be out of order to suggest that in the living quarters of the White House there should be a bronze plate inscribed "Taft-Hartley Act" for presidents to touch in gratitude on their way to bed? It has made it possible for the last four chief executives to have many a night's sleep they never could have had otherwise.

Rule By Majority Government

By Raymond Moley

From time to time Americans should remind themselves that the system under which they live is not that of majority rule but of majority government. The distinction between ruling and governing in our common parlance is not clear. But it means essentially that a majority, however preponderant, is limited by rights accorded to individuals and also to groups of individuals which bear the name of minorities.

This principle has been created over many generations in the evolution of liberty. The most noteworthy development of this principle has been in Anglo-American life.

For it is recognized that an unreconstructed majority can be as fearsome of tyranny as the autocracy of a despot.

It is this principle that Lockheed has invoked in refusing to participate in the elections demanded by the administration in certain defense corporations on the West Coast.

The background in this: In the Lockheed company there are workers who belong to unions and other workers who are not union members. Over the years Lockheed has recognized unions as bargaining units in matters affecting pay and work conditions.

These matters have been settled by peaceable negotiation. In fact, Lockheed has in the past agreed willingly to contractual provisions providing union security.

HOWEVER, the unions represented among Lockheed's employes made demands that elections be held in which a majority would substantially compel thousands of non-union members to pay union dues and assessments to the governing powers of the unions. This would mean what is called an "agency shop."

Technically, the non-union payers of dues and assessments might not be union members. Practically, however, it would mean that employes would be union members so far as such support is concerned.

In intervening in this dispute, the President appointed a "fact-finding board." The chairman of that board was Prof. George W. Taylor, an avowed exponent of compulsory union membership.

In the Taylor report it was recommended that elections should be held in the companies, and, if a two-thirds majority approved, all employes would be required to pay dues and assessments to the unions. The provision for a two-thirds rather than a bare majority was a concession, not to say a sop to the companies.

The President then demanded that the companies accept the findings of the fact-finding board, and more recently the Defense Department has indicated that economic retaliation will fall upon the companies which do not accept them.

That this retaliation can be severe is indicated by the fact that the government is the largest customer of those companies.

THREE COMPANIES agreed to elections, in which all failed to show a two-thirds majority favorable to the closed shop. Lockheed, however, refused to agree to an election.

Its position was that it would not agree to the use of economic force over 14,000 non-union workers.

Of the major reasons why non-union members do not want to make contributions—in this case, an estimated $1 million a year—is that union funds in these cases are used in political campaigns. In short, they do not want their money to be used in support of a party or its candidates that they oppose. These members claim that this is a violation of the right of a citizen to join and support a political party of his choice and also of his right to oppose and refuse to pay money to a party he opposes.

On this point the Supreme Court has spoken even through its most liberal members. Last year in the Looper case, which involved railway employes, Justice Black said:

"The stark fact is that this Act of Congress is being used as a means to exact money from these employes to help get votes to win elections for parties and candidates and to support doctrines they are against. If this is constitutional, the First Amendment is not the charter of political and religious liberty its sponsors believed it to be. . . .

"A violation of it, however small, is, in my judgment, prohibited by the First Amendment and should be stopped dead in its tracks on its first appearance. . . ."

IT WOULD seem that the President and his administration in taking a position in this case are in violation of this principle enunciated by Black and the court.

It is this principle on which Lockheed chose to stand, and if political and economic liberty mean anything, Lockheed is right.

Americans should never be willing to submit their liberties to arbitration. Nor to permit their liberty to be defined by a majority vote of any sort.

The Shades Are Down

By James Marlow

U. S. Handling Of News Analyzed

WASHINGTON (AP) — The shades are down, and have been for quite a while, on information the government is willing to make public. At this time they're not all the way down. They go down sharply in times of overseas crisis.

They did in both world wars, in the Korean War, when the American U2 plane was shot down over the Soviet Union in 1960, at the time of the disastrous Cuban invasion of 1961, and more recently in the Cuban tension of 1962.

The Truman, Eisenhower and Kennedy administrations have all been involved—when there was crisis and when there wasn't any.

President Kennedy's administration got sharp news media criticism for its handling of information during the October-November Cuban affair. It began easing up on those particular restrictions when the heat died down.

Then late last week Rep. John E. Moss of California, a member of Kennedy's own Democratic party and chairman of the House subcommittee on information, hit at the President and his advisers for management of the news.

He cited examples of news restrictions not connected with Cuba or crises at all:

Restrictions on covering underground nuclear tests in Nevada, secrecy about all military space activities, a recent blackout on information about Russian satellite efforts although the Russians know all about their own satellites.

"To a remarkable degree," Moss said, "the White House itself is retaining direct control over the handling of government information. Important news-making events, ranging from a backstage greeting (by Kennedy) to members of Russia's Bolshoi Ballet to the bomb tests in the Pacific are under firm presidential control.

"This is not all bad, nor is it all to the good. When we realize what sort of news management is going on in Washington today, we'd better start considering what —if anything—we're going to do about it."

Almost exactly a month before Moss, on Nov. 1, banged the Defense Department for an order requiring all its officials to report promptly to the Pentagon's public relations office the substance of all interviews with newsmen.

Arthur Sylvester, assistant secretary of defense in charge of public affairs, had put out the order Oct. 27. Moss didn't budge him.

When the National Editorial Association on Nov. 17 passed a resolution protesting Pentagon news policies, Sylvester 10 days later replied there had been a "great deal of twaddle" about his order.

But the whole reason for news restrictions—or lack of reason—lies between war and twaddle, between necessity and nonsense. It takes these main forms:

Withholding news which truly might endanger national security. No one quarrels in such a case, when it's real. Sometimes it isn't.

Because it is arbitrary to call some information secret when it isn't necessary, there is an unrelenting need for public vigilance. This is the root of the endless dispute with government.

Then there is the Sylvester system of compelling officials to report on their conversations with newsmen. This may help keep top Pentagon officials informed on what their subordinates are saying.

But it cannot help but discourage those subordinates from talking to newsmen altogether. Having to report on what was said means extra work and could cause them difficulty if the boss-man thinks they talked too much.

Withholding information is also one of the neatest ways to cover mistakes. Kennedy said his administration would not conceal its mistakes. He himself frankly took the blame for the Cuban invasion fiasco.

(Yet, by his doing so, the public was deprived of knowing who among his aides goofed.)

The House Government Operations Committee, parent group of Moss' subcommittee, said in 1960 secrecy is "the first refuge of incompetents."

The very times in which we live complicate and torture the problem of withholding news. It is understandable in wartime. It is not at all understandable in peacetime. But we are in a period that is neither war nor peace.

In short, this is a moment in history when the government can release more news than it could during war but less than it could in peace.

Presidents Truman, Eisenhower and Kennedy have all had to order some restraints in this cold war period but ever since Truman began it the government has been criticized for pulling the shades down too far for the national good.

True To Form

Jacqueline Kennedy can't say I didn't warn her about people who would tear her apart for being herself when she became this country's First Lady.

They're being more savage than I thought they would be when this column carried my first affirmation of admiration for the new mistress of the White House. They're running true to form.

My reasoning then and now is that each presidential wife owes it to herself, her sex and her country to reflect her natural charm, intelligence and personality and not to pretend to be anything but what she is.

One of my favorite White House mistresses was Bess Truman, the small town housewife and silent partner in a husband-wife political team who continued to be as First Lady what she always had been before—a matronly, shrewd realist who knew when it was time to go back to Independence, Mo., and insisted on going—a sweet woman who gave the members of her bridge club back home a chance to share the White House with her on many occasions.

I liked Lou Henry Hoover, because she continued to be in the White House what she had been before her husband was tapped for political responsibility—a gracious hostess who had mastered the delicate art of bringing together the disparate elements of a widely varied society around the same dinner table.

I admired Eleanor Roosevelt for daring to be different, though she seemed to go out of her way to prove her point. Matter of fact, she was a shy woman who was overcompensating, the usual cause of over-self-assertion.

By Truman Twill

The danger that lurked for Jacqueline Kennedy was the possibility she would act like an older woman instead of the 31-year-old she was when she made her White House debut.

She knew what was in store behind the clucking tongues of the righteous ladies who would tear her apart if she continued to be what she always had been—a creature of extraordinary privilege, endowed with intelligence, vitality and good looks, equipped with an extraordinary education, savoir faire, linguistic ease, wide acquaintanceship, expensive tastes—and, of course, two small children. They would set their disapproving minds against her.

If you looked at her one way, you saw a charming young woman who would bring modernity to the White House.

If you looked at her another way, you saw a flibbertigibbit who cut across the grain of middle class conventionality and was destined to give middle class ladies of this nation screaming fits.

I chose to look at the charming young woman. I went overboard for Caroline. I enjoyed the idea of the people's fusty old executive mansion filled with representatives of the rising generation, for a change, instead of representatives of the generation coasting downhill.

When people give Jacqueline Kennedy a bad mouth in my presence I do not pretend to give them silent approbation. I give them a fight. It's like this:

If I had a daughter I'd love to have one like my First Lady. So don't insult my daughter, stranger.

Down Through The Years

From The Review Files

THIRTY YEARS AGO — With a total of $113 collected, Chester led in the annual Red Cross roll call drive in Hancock County.

Dr. J. G. Collins and James P. Ebert of East Liverpool were among the speakers at the meeting of the Ohio Optometric Association in Steubenville.

J. T. Croxall, only 33rd degree Mason in Columbiana County, installed officers of East Liverpool Masonic Lodge 681.

TEN YEARS AGO — A Midland soldier rescued an Ohio View couple whose car skidded off Route 68 near Beaver and plunged into the river.

In a race for "coach of the year", East Liverpool's football coach, Wade Watts was nosed out by Massillon's Charles Mather in the Associated Press poll.

Odd Facts

Even though the 19th Amendment to the U. S. Constitution, giving women the right to vote, didn't become a law until 1920, the woman suffrage movement in this country goes back to 1848. And in 1872, a woman was nominated for the presidency of the U. S. for the first time. She was Victoria Claflin Woodhull, the candidate of the National Woman Suffrage Association.

The dividing line for modern highways isn't as "modern" as generally supposed. The first one used in America goes back some 300 years. It was used on a Mexican road to keep burros and horses in their proper lanes.

Although only a little more than 60 per cent of Americans are members of any religious organization, still 90 per cent of them want to be married by a religious official. Just one out of 10 marriages in the U. S. is a civil service ceremony.

Because of the earth's centrifugal force, 5,000 tons of cargo loaded on a ship in the vicinity of the equator would weigh 25 tons more at the poles.

Mr. K's Big Headache

By Robert Stephens

LONDON

Russia is far more worried by the conflict between China and India than by the setback in Cuba, according to well-informed Soviet bloc sources.

The Sino-Indian conflict has not only intensified the strains within the Soviet bloc between Moscow and Peiping. In sharpening the conflict, China has challenged Mr. Khurshchev's basic policy of peaceful coexistence and threatened to wreck one of the main pillars of his foreign policy — the prospect of gradually winning influence over the "third part" of the world, the non-aligned countries of Africa, Asia and Latin America.

THE NEED TO reduce the repercussions of the conflict, and to placate the Chinese may also make Mr. Khurshchev think twice now about seeking an early summit conference with President Kennedy. This appeared to be confirmed by the Soviet Premier when he said in Moscow that a summit meeting was not necessary at present but that he favored one when peace was at stake.

The Soviet bloc sympathizers with the Khrushchev line on peaceful coexistence, believe that China's attack on the Indian border has two main motives of political prestige, apart from the superficial one of securing an improved frontier.

First, China is trying to prove its claim to be the paramount power of Asia. It wishes to demonstrate the weakness of its chief rival, India, in the hope that the smaller countries of Asia, and indeed the whole group of non-aligned Afro-Asian countries who were associated with the Bandung Conference, will lose confidence in Indian political leadership.

Secondly, China is trying to demonstrate to the Russians the rightness of its views about the treatment of non-aligned countries.

The Russians have attached the greatest importance to establishing good relations with the non-aligned governments, even when they were more nationalist than left-wing, and even when they were fighting and imprisoning their local Communists.

The Chinese have favored greater support for local Communist parties, even if it meant conflict with the local nationalist government.

One of the first demonstrations of this difference of view was in the Middle East. Both in Egypt and in Iraq Mr. Khurshchev continued to give military and economic aid to both Nasser and Kassem, in spite of the fact that Egyptian and Iraqi Communists were being jailed by the hundred.

Except for one brief period, when Khrushchev wagged his finger in a speech at the Egyptians and got a defiant mind-your-own-business reply from Nasser, the Russian protests were confined to occasional critical comments in the Soviet party, and Trades Union press. But the Chinese publicly attacked Nasser and forced the withdrawal of an Egyptian mission from Peiping, while in Iraq they encouraged the local Communists in defiance of Russian advice to keep quiet.

In recent propaganda the Chinese obviously have set out to show India to be most glaring example of the iniquity of dealing with bourgeois nationalist governments in non-aligned countries, while leaving the local Communists in the lurch.

MR. NEHRU has been attacked as the "instrument of imperialism," as letting himself be used as the leader of an imperialist crusade against China. When it is remembered that Russia, like the West, has given economic aid to India, but also more recently had been offering to sell the Indians fighter aircraft, it can easily be seen how Mr. Khrushchev's policies towards the non-aligned are China's main targets.

If Mr. Khrushchev can be forced to abandon his policy towards India, the biggest and most influential non-aligned country, then he will have to admit the error of his policy towards the non-aligned in general. He would be forced to abandon his idea of a three-part world — Communist, Western and neutral.

In its place he would have to incline towards the more rigid Chinese conception of the classical revolutionary struggle between Communists and the rest, in which nationalists like Mr. Nehru are not potential friends, but simply class traitors.

Medical Breakthrough

By Alton Blakeslee

NEW YORK

For hundreds of years, doctors have turned from a bedside to tell of death's visit — to people who were 90 per cent healthy.

They died because one organ had failed —kidneys or lungs, liver or heart, or some vital gland.

But now, surgeons and scientists are fashioning a stunning new breakthrough over death by borrowing and transplanting healthy organs. Some feel success is near.

In Boston seven months ago, a young man aged 30 was dying from kidney disease. Today he still is living with a kidney taken from a dead man.

In recent medical history, 13 kidneys have thus been borrowed from the newly-dead, and at least 82 have been donated by living persons, from twins to relatives to virtual strangers.

A few kidneys have sustained life for months to several years now; many others soon failed.

But it is a heartening beginning toward the great goal of transplanting many types of organs — hearts, lungs, legs, glands, skin —to stay death in humans who are otherwise 90 per cent healthy.

THE BASIC problem is learning how to circumvent or repeal one of nature's fundamental laws.

Nature gave us a sensitive defense system against germs and viruses. Through it, we create antibodies to destroy or neutralize the "foreign" material.

But, most experts now believe, we use the same mechanism to reject "foreign" tissues or organs, even though survival might depend upon accepting a transplanted organ. Each human is so individual that he will tolerate only skin or tissues taken from an identical twin, and few of us have identical twins.

Nature does permit the temporary, life-saving transfer of blood, bones, arteries and corneas or windows of the eye, but these behave a bit differently.

Now, medical teams are becoming optimistic, even excited, over prospects or repealing nature's law against transplanting complex natural organs.

"There is no question but that this problem is going to be solved," declares Dr. David M. Hume of the Medical College of Virginia in Richmond.

Cabs were introduced into London in about 1823. The word is a contraction of "cabriolet so called because of its lightness in comparison with the cumbersome vehicles then in use.

Compulsory unionism is the issue in the Lockheed dispute.

A union shop is compulsory unionism.

The Lockheed dispute is over compulsory unionism, which the Kennedy administration encourages and which was encouraged also under Secretary of Labor Mitchell in the Eisenhower administration.

Yet because Lockheed production is more important than compulsory unionism, President Kennedy is ready to use the Taft-Hartley Act to keep production going.

Would it be out of order to suggest that in the living quarters of the White House there should be a bronze plate inscribed "Taft-Hartley Act" for presidents to touch in gratitude on their way to bed? It has made it possible for the last four chief executives to have many a night's sleep they never could have had otherwise.

True To Form

By Truman Twill

Jacqueline Kennedy can't say I didn't warn her about people who would tear her apart for being herself when she became this country's First Lady.

They're being more savage than I thought they would be when this column carried my first affirmation of admiration for the new mistress of the White House. They're running true to form.

My reasoning then and now is that each presidential wife owes it to herself, her sex and her country to reflect her natural charm, intelligence and personality and not to pretend to be anything but what she is.

One of my favorite White House mistresses was Bess Truman, the small town housewife and silent partner in a husband-wife political team who continued to be as First Lady what she always had been before—a matronly, shrewd realist who knew when it was time to go back to Independence, Mo., and insisted on going—a sweet woman who gave the members of her bridge club back home a chance to share the White House with her on many occasions.

I liked Lou Henry Hoover, because she continued to be in the White House what she had been before her husband was tapped for political responsibility—a gracious hostess who had mastered the delicate art of bringing together the disparate elements of a widely varied society around the same dinner table.

I admired Eleanor Roosevelt for daring to be different, though she seemed to go out of her way to prove her point. Matter of fact, she was a shy woman who was overcompensating, the usual cause of over-self-assertion.

The danger that lurked for Jacqueline Kennedy was the possibility she would act like an older woman instead of the 31-year-old she was when she made her White House debut.

She knew what was in store behind the clucking tongues of the righteous ladies who would tear her apart if she continued to be what she always had been—a creature of extraordinary privilege, endowed with intelligence, vitality and good looks, equipped with an extraordinary education, savoir faire, linguistic ease, wide acquaintanceship, expensive tastes—and, of course, two small children. They would set their disapproving minds against her.

If you looked at her one way, you saw a charming young woman who would bring modernity to the White House.

If you looked at her another way, you saw a flibbertigibbit who cut across the grain of middle class conventionality and was destined to give middle class ladies of this nation screaming fits.

I chose to look at the charming young woman. I went overboard for Caroline. I enjoyed the idea of the people's fusty old executive mansion filled with representatives of the rising generation, for a change, instead of representatives of the generation coasting downhill.

When people give Jacqueline Kennedy a bad mouth in my presence I do not pretend to give them silent approbation. I give them a fight. It's like this:

If I had a daughter I'd love to have one like my First Lady. So don't insult my daughter, stranger.

Medical Breakthrough

By Alton Blakeslee

NEW YORK

For hundreds of years, doctors have turned from a bedside to tell of death's visit — to people who were 90 per cent healthy.

They died because one organ had failed —kidneys or lungs, liver or heart, or some vital gland.

But now, surgeons and scientists are fashioning a stunning new breakthrough over death by borrowing and transplanting healthy organs. Some feel success is near.

In Boston seven months ago, a young man aged 30 was dying from kidney disease. Today he still is living with a kidney taken from a dead man.

In recent medical history, 13 kidneys have thus been borrowed from the newly - dead, and at least 82 have been donated by living persons, from twins to relatives to virtual strangers.

A few kidneys have sustained life for months to several years now; many others soon failed.

But it is a heartening beginning toward the great goal of transplanting many types of organs — hearts, lungs, legs, glands, skin —to stay death in humans who are otherwise 90 per cent healthy.

THE BASIC problem is learning how to circumvent or repeal one of nature's fundamental laws.

Nature gave us a sensitive defense system against germs and viruses. Through it, we create antibodies to destroy or neutralize the "foreign" material.

But, most experts now believe, we use the same mechanism to reject "foreign" tissues or organs, even though survival might depend upon accepting a transplanted organ. Each human is so individual that he will tolerate only skin or tissues taken from an identical twin, and few of us have identical twins.

Nature does permit the temporary, life-saving transfer of blood, bones, arteries and corneas or windows of the eye, but these behave a bit differently.

Now, medical teams are becoming optimistic, even excited, over prospects or repealing nature's law against transplanting complex natural organs.

"There is no question but that this problem is going to be solved," declares Dr. David M. Hume of the Medical College of Virginia in Richmond.

Cabs were introduced into London in about 1823. The word is a contraction of "cabriolet so called because of its lightness in comparison with the cumbersome vehicles then in use.

December Countdown

Rule By Majority Government

By Raymond Moley

From time to time Americans should remind themselves that the system under which they live is not that of majority rule but of majority government. The distinction between ruling and governing in our common parlance is not clear. But it means essentially that a majority, however preponderant, is limited by rights accorded to individuals and also to groups of individuals which bear the name of minorities.

This principle has been created over many generations in the evolution of liberty. The most noteworthy development of this principle has been in Anglo-American life.

For it is recognized that an unreconstructed majority can be as fearsome of tyranny as the autocracy of a despot.

It is this principle that Lockheed has invoked in refusing to participate in the elections demanded by the administration in certain defense corporations on the West Coast.

The background in this: In the Lockheed company there are workers who belong to unions and other workers who are not union members. Over the years Lockheed has recognized unions as bargaining units in matters affecting pay and work conditions.

These matters have been settled by peaceable negotiation. In fact, Lockheed has in the past agreed willingly to contractual provisions providing union security.

HOWEVER, the unions represented among Lockheed's employes made demands that elections be held in which a majority would substantially compel thousands of non-union members to pay union dues and assessments to the governing powers of the unions. This would mean what is called an "agency shop."

Technically, the non-union payers of dues and assessments might not be union members. Practically, however, it would mean that employes would be union members so far as such support is concerned.

In intervening in this dispute, the President appointed a "fact-finding board." The chairman of that board was Prof. George W. Taylor, an avowed exponent of compulsory union membership.

In the Taylor report it was recommended that elections should be held in the companies, and, if a two-thirds majority approved, all employes would be required to pay dues and assessments to the unions. The provision for a two-thirds rather than a bare majority was a concession, not to say a sop to the companies.

The President then demanded that the companies accept the findings of the fact-finding board, and more recently the Defense Department has indicated that economic retaliation will fall upon the companies which do not accept them.

That this retaliation can be severe is indicated by the fact that the government is the largest customer of those companies.

THREE COMPANIES agreed to elections, in which all failed to show a two-thirds majority favorable to the closed shop. Lockheed, however, refused to agree to an election.

Its position was that it would not agree to the use of economic force over 14,000 non-union workers.

Of the major reasons why non-union members do not want to make contributions—in this case, an estimated $1 million a year—is that union funds in these cases are used in political campaigns. In short, they do not want their money to be used in support of a party or its candidates that they oppose. These members claim that this is a violation of the right of a citizen to join and support a political party of his choice and also of his right to oppose and refuse to pay money to a party he opposes.

On this point the Supreme Court has spoken even through its most liberal members. Last year in the Looper case, which involved railway employes, Justice Black said:

"The stark fact is that this Act of Congress is being used as a means to exact money from these employes to help get votes to win elections for parties and candidates and to support doctrines they are against. If this is constitutional, the First Amendment is not the charter of political and religious liberty its sponsors believed it to be. . . .

"A violation of it, however small, is, in my judgment, prohibited by the First Amendment and should be stopped dead in its tracks on its first appearance. . . ."

IT WOULD seem that the President and his administration in taking a position in this case are in violation of this principle enunciated by Black and the court.

It is this principle on which Lockheed chose to stand, and if political and economic liberty mean anything, Lockheed is right.

Americans should never be willing to submit their liberties to arbitration. Nor to permit their liberty to be defined by a majority vote of any sort.

Down Through The Years

From The Review Files

THIRTY YEARS AGO — With a total of $113 collected, Chester led in the annual Red Cross roll call drive in Hancock County.

Dr. J. G. Collins and James P. Ebert of East Liverpool were among the speakers at the meeting of the Ohio Optometric Association in Steubenville.

TWENTY YEARS AGO — Miss Dora Dean, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Dean of Glasgow, was elected to membership in Book-Motor honorary scholarship society at Bowling Green State, where she was majoring in education.

J. T. Croxall, only 33rd degree Mason in Columbiana County, installed officers of East Liverpool Masonic Lodge 681.

TEN YEARS AGO — A Midland soldier rescued an Ohio View couple whose car skidded off Route 68 near Beaver and plunged into the river.

In a race for "coach of the year", East Liverpool's football coach, Wade Watts was nosed out by Massillon's Charles Mather in the Associated Press poll.

Sgt. George Ferguson, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Ferguson Jr. of Sophia St., was transferred from Kelly Air Force Base, San Antonio, Tex., to an air base at Moulins, France.

Odd Facts

Even though the 19th Amendment to the U. S. Constitution, giving women the right to vote, didn't become a law until 1920, the woman suffrage movement in this country goes back to 1848. And in 1872, a woman was nominated for the presidency of the U. S. for the first time. She was Victoria Claflin Woodhull, the candidate of the National Woman Suffrage Association.

The dividing line for modern highways isn't as "modern" as generally supposed. The first one used in America goes back some 300 years. It was used on a Mexican road to keep burros and horses in their proper lanes.

Although only a little more than 60 per cent of Americans are members of any religious organization, still 90 per cent of them want to be married by a religious official. Just one out of 10 marriages in the U. S. is a civil service ceremony.

Because of the earth's centrifugal force, 5,000 tons of cargo loaded on a ship in the vicinity of the equator would weigh 25 tons more at the poles.

The Shades Are Down

By James Marlow

U. S. Handling Of News Analyzed

WASHINGTON (AP) — The shades are down, and have been for quite a while, on information the government is willing to make public. At this time they're not all the way down. They go down sharply in times of overseas crisis.

They did in both world wars, in the Korean War, when the American U2 plane was shot down over the Soviet Union in 1960, at the time of the disastrous Cuban invasion of 1961, and more recently in the Cuban tension of 1962.

The Truman, Eisenhower and Kennedy administrations have all been involved—when there was crisis and when there wasn't any.

President Kennedy's administration got sharp news media criticism for its handling of information during the October-November Cuban affair. It began easing up on those particular restrictions when the heat died down.

Then late last week Rep. John E. Moss of California, a member of Kennedy's own Democratic party and chairman of the House subcommittee on information, hit at the President and his advisers for management of the news.

He cited examples of news restrictions not connected with Cuba or crises at all:

Restrictions on covering underground nuclear tests in Nevada, secrecy about all military space activities, a recent blackout on information about Russian satellite efforts although the Russians know all about their own satellites.

"To a remarkable degree," Moss said, "the White House itself is retaining direct control over the handling of government information. Important news - making events, ranging from a backstage greeting (by Kennedy) to members of Russia's Bolshoi Ballet to the bomb tests in the Pacific are under firm presidential control.

"This is not all bad, nor is it all to the good. When we realize what sort of news management is going on in Washington today, we'd better start considering what —if anything—we're going to do about it."

Almost exactly a month before Moss, on Nov. 1, banged the Defense Department for an order requiring all its officials to report promptly to the Pentagon's public relations office the substance of all interviews with newsmen.

Arthur Sylvester, assistant secretary of defense in charge of public affairs, had put out the order Oct. 27. Moss didn't budge him.

When the National Editorial Association on Nov. 17 passed a resolution protesting Pentagon news policies, Sylvester 10 days later replied there had been a "great deal of twaddle" about his order.

But the whole reason for news restrictions—or lack of reason—lies between war and twaddle, between necessity and nonsense. It takes these main forms:

Withholding news which truly might endanger national security. No one quarrels in such a case, when it's real. Sometimes it isn't.

Because it is arbitrary to call some information secret when it isn't necessary, there is an unrelenting need for public vigilance. This is the root of the endless dispute with government.

Then there is the Sylvester system of compelling officials to report on their conversations with newsmen. This may help keep top Pentagon officials informed on what their subordinates are saying.

But it cannot help but discourage those subordinates from talking to newsmen altogether. Having to report on what was said means extra work and could cause them difficulty if the boss-man thinks they talked too much.

Withholding information is also one of the neatest ways to cover mistakes. Kennedy said his administration would not conceal its mistakes. He himself frankly took the blame for the Cuban invasion fiasco.

(Yet, by his doing so, the public was deprived of knowing who among his aides goofed.)

The House Government Operations Committee, parent group of Moss' subcommittee, said in 1960 secrecy is "the first refuge of incompetents."

The very times in which we live complicate and torture the problem of withholding news. It is understandable in wartime. It is not at all understandable in peacetime. But we are in a period that is neither war nor peace.

In short, this is a moment in history when the government can release more news than it could during war but less than it could in peace.

Presidents Truman, Eisenhower and Kennedy have all had to order some restraints in this cold war period but ever since Truman began it the government has been criticized for pulling the shades down too far for the national good.

Mr. K's Big Headache

By Robert Stephens

LONDON

Russia is far more worried by the conflict between China and India than by the setback in Cuba, according to well-informed Soviet bloc sources.

The Sino-Indian conflict has not only intensified the strains within the Soviet bloc between Moscow and Peiping. In sharpening the conflict, China has challenged Mr. Khurshchev's basic policy of peaceful coexistence and threatened to wreck one of the main pillars of his foreign policy — the prospect of gradually winning influence over the "third part" of the world, the non-aligned countries of Africa, Asia and Latin America.

THE NEED TO reduce the repercussions of the conflict, and to placate the Chinese may also make Mr. Khurshchev think twice now about seeking an early summit conference with President Kennedy. This appeared to be confirmed by the Soviet Premier when he said in Moscow that a summit meeting was not necessary at present but that he favored one when peace was at stake.

The Soviet bloc sympathizers with the Khrushchev line on peaceful coexistence, believe that China's attack on the Indian border has two main motives of political prestige, apart from the superficial one of securing an improved frontier.

First, China is trying to prove its claim to be the paramount power of Asia. It wishes to demonstrate the weakness of its chief rival, India, in the hope that the smaller countries of Asia, and indeed the whole group of non-aligned Afro-Asian countries who were associated with the Bandung Conference, will lose confidence in Indian political leadership.

Secondly, China is trying to demonstrate to the Russians the rightness of its views about the treatment of non - aligned countries.

The Russians have attached the greatest importance to establishing good relations with the non-aligned governments, even when they were more nationalist than left-wing, and even when they were fighting and imprisoning their local Communists.

The Chinese have favored greater support for local Communist parties, even if it meant conflict with the local nationalist government.

One of the first demonstrations of this difference of view was in the Middle East. Both in Egypt and in Iraq Mr. Khurshchev continued to give military and economic aid to both Nasser and Kassem, in spite of the fact that Egyptian and Iraqi Communists were being jailed by the hundred.

Except for one brief period, when Khrushchev wagged his finger in a speech at the Egyptians and got a defiant mind-your-own-business reply from Nasser, the Russian protests were confined to occasional critical comments in the Soviet party, and Trades Union press. But the Chinese publicly attacked Nasser and forced the withdrawal of an Egyptian mission from Peiping, while in Iraq they encouraged the local Communists in defiance of Russian advice to keep quiet.

In recent propaganda the Chinese obviously have set out to show India to be most glaring example of the iniquity of dealing with bourgeois nationalist governments in non - aligned countries, while leaving the local Communists in the lurch.

MR. NEHRU has been attacked as the "instrument of imperialism," as letting himself be used as the leader of an imperialist crusade against China. When it is remembered that Russia, like the West, has given economic aid to India, but also more recently had been offering to sell the Indians fighter aircraft, it can easily be seen how Mr. Khrushchev's policies towards the non-aligned are China's main targets.

If Mr. Khrushchev can be forced to abandon his policy towards India, the biggest and most influential non-aligned country, then he will have to admit the error of his policy towards the non-aligned in general. He would be forced to abandon his idea of a three-part world — Communist, Western and neutral.

In its place he would have to incline towards the more rigid Chinese conception of the classical revolutionary struggle between Communists and the rest, in which nationalists like Mr. Nehru are not potential friends, but simply class traitors.

U.S.-Soviet Fight Due On Sharing U.N. Bill

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) —A Soviet-U.S. clash is in prospect over a resolution to make all U.N. members legally responsible for sharing the cost of the U.N. forces in the Congo and the Middle East.

The resolution, sponsored by the United States and nine other countries, proposes acceptance of the World Court's July 20 advisory opinion that costs of the peace-keeping forces constitute "expenses of the organization" which the U.N. charter says "shall be borne by the members as apportioned" by the General Assembly.

A companion proposal, sponsored by the United States and eight other countries, calls for a 15-member working group to give the assembly suggestions by next April 1 on methods of financing similar costly U.N. peace-keeping operations in the future.

Brig. J. H. Price of Canada was to introduce both resolutions this afternoon in the assembly's 110-nation budgetary committee.

Soviet delegates said privately the Soviet Union would vote against accepting the court opinion and would never pay any part of the Congo or Middle East expenses no matter how the assembly voted.

Arab delegates said they could not vote to accept the court opinion because they refuse to help pay for the Middle East force.

Latin-American delegates have been drawing up a proposal to amend the second resolution. The Latin Americans want the cost of peace-keeping operations assessed separately from the yearly U.N. budget, and they want the permanent members of the Security Council—the United States, the Soviet Union, Britain, France and Nationalist China—to pay a larger share of such costs than they do of the regular budget.

Wellsville Drive Gathers Leaves

The entire city was covered in a cleanup campaign held Saturday in Wellsville to rid the sidewalks, gutters and yards of the fall accumulation of leaves.

Mayor William Daugherty said six trucks were donated to the city for the day and they were manned by 24 volunteers. He said the project, sponsored by Wellsville's Cleanup and Beautification Committee, was completed in mid-afternoon.

Several residents misunderstood previous announcements and did not have their leaves in containers, the mayor commented. No arrangements had been made to collect loose leaves and these had to be left.

The mechanical sweeper now will be used to clean all the streets again before Christmas. The cleanup committee is headed by Robert Andrews, minister of the First Christian Church.

The mayor also reported the lights on the city's Christmas tree in the square were turned on Saturday night. The tree was provided by the Chamber of Commerce.

A smaller tree installed in a fountain area on Wells Ave. also was lighted Saturday night.

City Youth Tours Airline And Sees Former Teacher

Two wishes came true Saturday for 15-year old David Doland. Son of Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Doland, 601 Orchard Grove Ave., he got a look behind the scenes of an airline operation and saw his favorite teacher again.

It all started when David, an avid airplane enthusiast, wrote a letter to Robert E. Peach, President of Mohawk Airlines, Inc., at Utica, N. Y. The boy suggested that the airline "customer test" high school boys as assistants to the stewardess on the new BAC One-Eleven jets in the same manner that Mohawk presently is "customer testing" the new jet interior color scheme in its Convair 440 aircraft.

The letter so impressed Peach and others in Mohawk's top management that they decided to take David to Utica to see the airline's headquarters facilities. While making the arrangements for David's trip, it was discovered that his favorite teacher now is employed in the Utica school system. Consequently, a meeting was set up between the boy and his teacher, Mrs. Charles Beaver.

Saturday morning, David received a tour of Mohawk's headquarters and maintenance facilities at Oneida County Airport in Utica and saw what has to be done before a plane can go out on a flight. At lunch he met his teacher and talked about old times.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The FBI captured one of its 10 most wanted criminals in a Hollywood, Calif., apartment early today.

The FBI identified the man as John Kinchloe De Jarnette, 41, a native of Kentucky.

Also arrested at the apartment was Miss Doris Lee Nelson, 28, wanted on a Kentucky warrant charging her with fleeing the state to avoid prosecution for obtaining narcotics by fraud.

De Jarnette is charged in federal warrants with robbing the Seventh & Hill branch of the Liberty National Bank & Trust Co. of Louisville, Ky., of almost $24,000 Sept. 10; the Highland Branch of the same bank of more than $36,000 Oct. 10; and the Madison Rd. branch of the Providence Bank in Cincinnati, Ohio, of more than $38,000 Oct. 22.

City Youth Tours Airline And Sees Former Teacher

Two wishes came true Saturday for 15-year old David Doland. Son of Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Doland, 601 Orchard Grove Ave., he got a look behind the scenes of an airline operation and saw his favorite teacher again.

It all started when David, an avid airplane enthusiast, wrote a letter to Robert E. Peach, President of Mohawk Airlines, Inc., at Utica, N. Y. The boy suggested that the airline "customer test" high school boys as assistants to the stewardess on the new BAC One-Eleven jets in the same manner that Mohawk presently is "customer testing" the new jet interior color scheme in its Convair 440 aircraft.

The letter so impressed Peach and others in Mohawk's top management that they decided to take David to Utica to see the airline's headquarters facilities. While making the arrangements for David's trip, it was discovered that his favorite teacher now is employed in the Utica school system. Consequently, a meeting was set up between the boy and his teacher, Mrs. Charles Beaver.

Saturday morning, David received a tour of Mohawk's headquarters and maintenance facilities at Oneida County Airport in Utica and saw what has to be done before a plane can go out on a flight. At lunch he met his teacher and talked about old times.

Guard Against Yuletide Criminals, Chief Warns

Approach of the year-end holidays means businessmen and the general public must redouble watchfulness against criminals who take advantage of the spirit and bustle of the season to reap an illegal harvest, Police Chief Americo Radeschi warned today.

Following a nationwide pattern, police expect an increase in many lines of criminal activity in the next few weeks, he said.

Busy merchants, preoccupied shoppers and bustling householders must guard against sneak thieves, burglars, pick-pockets, holdup men, counterfeiters, forgers, short-change artists and others, Chief Radeschi warned.

In advice to store operators, he warned particularly against keeping large sums of cash on the premises overnight as a temptation to burglars. Police will furnish an armed escort to banks or night depositories, so there is no need for money to be left unbanked at the end of the business day, he said.

Merchants should be certain all doors and windows are locked securely at night and the interior and entrance of their stores are lighted brightly, Chief Radeschi said. It is wise to check restrooms and other out-of-the-way spots just before closing time to make certain no thief is hiding, he added.

Merchants should alert their employes to guard carefully against counterfeit bills and forged checks in the holiday rush, Chief Radeschi said. Both counterfeit passers and check artists know that busy clerks sometimes do not take enough time to be careful in the holiday frenzy. Clerks should be instructed not to cash a personal check unless the person who presents it is known to them personally.

Counterfeit passers and check artists frequently are active on late Saturday afternoons, feeling their crime will not be detected in many instances until the banks open Monday. That allows them plenty of time to "work" the town thoroughly and make their escape, he explained.

Shoppers must be alert against pick - pockets, who can work swiftly to lift a man's wallet or the cash out of woman's purse in a holiday crush. Women shoppers should keep a firm grip on their purses at all times to guard against thievery.

Forgetting a purse for a moment on a counter while examining merchandise is one of the best "invitations" to theft, Chief Radeschi added.

Shoppers should park their autos in well - lighted places, where possible, to help prevent sneak thieves from breaking in to steal packages. If merchandise is left in an unattended car, all the windows and doors should be secured.

Burglars know that many families are away from home for an evening or several days at a time during the holiday season and they take advantage of the fact.

All windows and doors should be locked securely before the family goes away for an evening. If it's a visit of a day or so, neighbors should be advised to help keep an eye on the empty house and warn police if they see any suspicious activity, the chief said.

Anyone who observes a suspected criminal in action, either in a residential neighborhood or the business district, should phone police immediately in order that a check can be made, he said. Prompt tips to the police department can lead to apprehension of the criminal.

Note to new cooks: don't grease that pie pan or pie plate! The pastry should be rich enough to do its own greasing.

Clues Sought In Fatal Fire At Mansfield

MANSFIELD, Ohio (AP)—Authorities probed the ruins of a huge discount store today in the hope of determining what caused a Saturday night fire that killed two persons and caused damages estimated at $2½ to $3 million.

The quick - spreading blaze which started in the Giant Tiger Discount Store's drapery department sent about 200 shoppers and customers fleeing to safety. All but two made it.

George Cooper, 24-year-old assistant manager, and James Long, 17-year-old stock boy, perished in the flames that in slightly more than an hour reduced the big store to a skeleton of brick and steel.

Authorities expressed gratitude that customers and employes did not panic. That could have caused "a real disaster," they said.

Four persons were injured rushing for the doors when the fire broke out about 6:45 p.m., but none was seriously hurt. City patrolman George Searle and John Brady, another assistant manager, suffered burns and were admitted to Mansfield General Hospital. They were reported in fair condition.

William Taylor, 31, of near Bucyrus, and his infant daughter, Debra, were treated for injuries —Taylor for an abrasion of the back and the child for smoke inhalation.

Five firefighting units from Ashland, Nankin, Polk and Washington and Jefferson Twps. joined the Mansfield department in battling the blaze. Despite their efforts, the structure was a total loss. Brady made the damage estimate, which he said included both building and merchandise.

The store had 70,000 square feet of floor space, brick walls and an all-glass front. It opened in October 1961.

Pennsylvania Check Set For Sales Tax

John P. Gray, director of the Pennsylvania Sales Tax Bureau, said at Harrisburg field investigators will check vendors of Christmas trees, holiday wreaths, holly, mistletoe and other Yuletide items to see that they collect and remit sales tax.

Transient operators, clubs and organizations selling trees and other Christmas items were reminded of their obligation to obtain temporary licenses to collect the 4 per cent tax on sales of this type of merchandise.

Charitable organizations are not exempt from collecting the tax.

He said applications for temporary licenses are available at any Sales Tax Bureau field office.

Ex-Gangster Shot To Death

EAST ST. LOUIS, Ill. (AP)—Three shotgun blasts from the shadows of a vacant house early Sunday ended the life of a one-time member of Chicago's Bugs Moran gang.

Virgil Wilson Summers, 49, henchman of the late ganglord George (Bugs) Moran, was ambushed as he returned to his apartment about 3 a.m.

Police could advance no theory for the gangland style slaying.

Moran, Summers and another man were convicted in 1946 of a $10,000 bank messenger holdup in Dayton, Ohio. They drew 10 to 25-year prison sentences. Summers and Moran were paroled in 1956 and arrested immediately on a charge of bank burglary at Ansonia, Ohio.

The two were sentenced to five years in federal prison for the Ansonia burglary. Moran died in prison in 1957 of cancer.

Mr. Shnoo's Zoo

By Lucrece Beale

CHAPTER ONE

Once upon a time there was a man named Shnellingham Shnoo who loved animals more than anything in the world.

When he was a small boy he collected tropical fish and turtles and hamsters.

As he grew older his collection grew to include raccoons and monkeys and snakes. By the time he was a young man he was collecting tigers and zebras and even giraffes!

Finally, Mr. Shnoo bought a zoo. It was an old run down place owned by a man named Crookshank. This man did not love animals. He kept them in cages so small they hardly had room to turn around. He gave them very little food and he did not heat their houses and he never spoke kindly to them.

CROOKSHANK was glad to sell the zoo because he loved money as much as Mr. Shnoo loved animals. Mr. Shnoo was so anxious to help the animals that he agreed to pay much more than the zoo was worth.

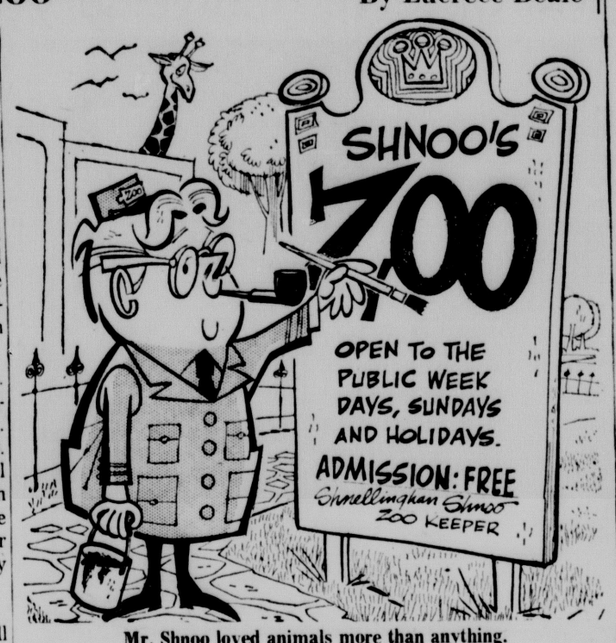
It was going to take him 10 years to pay for it. It was arranged that he would pay 1,000 gold pieces each year. If any year he could not pay it he would lose both the zoo and all the gold he had already paid.

Furthermore, Crookshank insisted that until the zoo was entirely paid for, he himself would continue to live there.

These were very hard terms but Mr. Shnoo was so happy to have the zoo he did not mind too much. He immediately set about improving things for the animals.

He built an aquarium and filled it with strange fish from all over the world. For the birds, he built an enormous cage that was glassed in for winter. He enlarged the elephant house and built an outdoor pool for the hippopotamus. He erected a beautiful building for the monkeys and a separate house for the snakes.

He called the zoo Shnoo's Zoo



Mr. Shnoo loved animals more than anything.

and before long people began to come from far and wide to pay to see his animals, for word spread that they were the finest and happiest animals in the land.

Now it happened that the Queen of the land was very fond of animals. She let it be known that in order to encourage kindness to animals she intended to visit all the zoos before Christmas and to make an award of 1,000 gold pieces to the one she found the most deserving.

—:—

WHEN Mr. Shnoo heard this he was very excited. He felt that no finer zoo than his existed and he was sure he would win the 1,000 gold pieces.

He very much needed the gold because his last payment to Crookshank was due on Christmas Eve and he had spent so much money building up the zoo that he really did not have the gold to pay.

Now he felt that his troubles would soon be over; the zoo would be all his; Crookshank would be gone, and he could do even finer things for his animals.

He rushed about the zoo spreading the good news. He promised Molly, the hippopotamus, he would buy her a husband; he told Herbert and Louise, the giraffes, he would build them a grape arbor; and to Blue Lady, the parakeet, he promised a bottomless bowl of honey.

As he left the bird house he ran into Crookshank who handed him a letter.

"Came yesterday," said Crookshank. "I got it from the postman."

Mr. Shnoo looked and gasped. "Goodness! Why didn't you give it to me sooner?"

"Forgot," said Crookshank.

"Impossible!" cried Mr. Shnoo. He stared in awe at the envelope. There, scrawled in red letters, were the words: "To Mr. S. Shnoo at the Zoo from Mr. S. Claus at Santa Land."

Tomorrow: Mr. Shnoo's Decision.

Mishap Disables City Fire Pumper

The East End pumper was deadlined Saturday afternoon when it was damaged while responding to a brush fire between Plummer and Monaca Sts., firemen reported.

Asst. Chief James Pelley said the drain valves on the pump were torn off when the bottom of the truck dragged on the road at the end of Monaca St.

The truck was returned to Central Station and the Seagraves pumper was assigned to East End, Pelley said.

The call was received at 2 p. m. but the cause of the fire, which originated in the woods, was not determined, firemen said.

Firemen were called to the home of Elsie Hoschar, 196 Charles St., at 1:56 p. m. Saturday when children started a fire in rubbish. The fire extended to the grass but was extinguished with a booster line.

Ex-Gangster Shot To Death

EAST ST. LOUIS, Ill. (AP)—Three shotgun blasts from the shadows of a vacant house early Sunday ended the life of a one-time member of Chicago's Bugs Moran gang.

Virgil Wilson Summers, 49, henchman of the late ganglord George (Bugs) Moran, was ambushed as he returned to his apartment about 3 a.m.

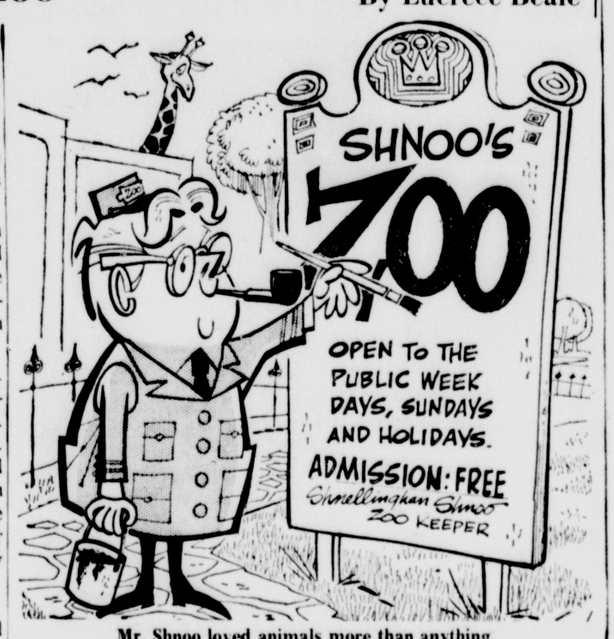
Police could advance no theory for the gangland style slaying.

Moran, Summers and another man were convicted in 1946 of a $10,000 bank messenger holdup in Dayton, Ohio. They drew 10 to 25-year prison sentences. Summers and Moran were paroled in 1956 and arrested immediately on a charge of bank burglary at Ansonia, Ohio.

The two were sentenced to five years in federal prison for the Ansonia burglary. Moran died in prison in 1957 of cancer.

Mr. Shnoo's Zoo

By Lucrece Beale



Mr. Shnoo loved animals more than anything.

CHAPTER ONE

Once upon a time there was a man named Shnellingham Shnoo who loved animals more than anything in the world.

When he was a small boy he collected tropical fish and turtles and hamsters.

As he grew older his collection grew to include raccoons and monkeys and snakes. By the time he was a young man he was collecting tigers and zebras and even giraffes!

Finaliy, Mr. Shnoo bought a zoo. It was an old run down place owned by a man named Crookshank. This man did not love animals. He kept them in cages so small they hardly had room to turn around. He gave them very little food and he did not heat their houses and he never spoke kindly to them.

CROOKSHANK was glad to sell the zoo because he loved money as much as Mr. Shnoo loved animals. Mr. Shnoo was so anxious to help the animals that he agreed to pay much more than the zoo was worth.

Jumping To Conclusions

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Jumping to conclusions:

Those who have won success in their careers are more fearful of failure than those still on the way up. Victory makes almost as many cowards as does defeat. It is only when you realize you have something to lose that you become really frightened.

It is far more exhilarating to get a $5 a week raise when you're 21 than a $50 pay hike when you're 51.

The most annoying word in the vocabulary of the average child today is "stupid." But if a parent lets his child call him that—and get away with it—one has to admit the child has used the word correctly.

No husband ever hung a picture on the wall that his wife didn't straighten as soon as he left the room.

More folks got to work on time when they kept chickens in the backyard. The advantage of a rooster over an alarm clock is that you can't turn it off, roll over and go back to sleep.

The reason we have less fun now is that we're all so sophisticated nothing surprises us anymore—and it's fun to be surprised.

Geography was easier to learn in the old days when everything that belonged to the British Empire was tinted pink on the map—and that took care of about half the globe.

Ulcers are no real measure of importance. Bowery bums come down with them as well as executives with a Park Avenue office.

Few husbands carry an up-to-date photo of their wife in their wallet after she hits 40.

Charge accounts have ruined more men than blondes.

The three types of men who are least impressed with the whims of women are male hairdressers, house painters and plumbers.

One of the great mysteries to most of us is, where do the stores keep during the rest of the year the stuff they put in their windows just before Christmas?

You can tell a fellow is middle-aged if he keeps on working his crossword puzzle after a pretty girl takes a bus seat across the aisle from him.

The thing many grownups unconsciously miss most about their childhood is the taste of a stick of licorice. Youth has a licorice flavor.

A fat criminal is always likelier to get off with a lighter sentence if he is tried by a jury containing at least two fat men and one fat woman.

There are lots of people who had no trouble giving up smoking, drinking and other bad habits. Any cemetery is full of them.

The most enjoyable way to see your dentist twice a year is to meet him in a neighborhood bar.

Husbands who pride themselves on being good cooks almost invariably leave the dishes for their wives to do.

There's always something in life to look forward to. As soon as you pay off the mortgage on your home, the roof is bound to start leaking.

Sneaky Skunk Caught In Philadelphia's Zoo

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—A free-loading skunk has been sneaking at night into the camel, kangaroo and penguin cages at Philadelphia Zoo.

Zoo officials caught him Saturday night. They'll continue to feed him, but the skunk will have to go on display and let folks look at him during the day, just like the zoo's other five skunks.

Pope Seems Well On Way To Recovery

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope John XXIII appears well on his way back to resuming his normal duties after a week of battling a stomach disorder and serious anemia.

The Pope's personal physician has returned to his home in Bologna, expressing confidence.

There are indications that the pontiff may take part in the ceremonies closing the first session of the Second Vatican Council next weekend.

The supreme ruler of the Roman Catholic Church made his first public appearance in a week Sunday.

He stood for four minutes at the open window of his apartment, unshielded from cold gusts sweeping St. Peter's Square, to give his usual Sunday blessing to the crowd below.

In a strong clear voice carried by loudspeaker he said: "Good health, which threatened to leave us, is about to return. Much more, it does return."

The 81-year old pontiff looked a bit pale but rested and in good spirits. He raised his arms in his usual vigorous gesture of benediction.

The 50,000 Romans and tourists in the square cheered, applauded and waved.

Another papal doctor, Prof. Piero Mazzoni, remained on duty at the apostolic palace.

"The best statement on the Pope's condition," said Gasbarrini, "is his appearance to bless the faithful. All I can add to that is that the Pope is the best of patients and I am confident of the effectiveness of the prescribed treatment."

FTC Rules 'Monopoly' In Scrap Iron, Steel

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Federal Trade Commission has ruled that a Philadelphia scrap iron and steel firm monopolized its field through agreements with U. S. and European steel producers.

The FTC said in a tentative order that the firm's customers must do part of their business with other brokers.

Named in the decision announced Sunday are Luria Brothers, Inc., the nation's largest brokers of steel and iron scrap; the OCCF, a central buying office for European mills connected with the European Steel and Coal Community and 17 U. S. steel companies or subsidiaries.

In a 2-1 decision the FTC found that the Luria firm had agreements with the steel producers whereby Luria was to supply them with substantially all their scrap metal needs.

Domestic steel producers named in the decision:

Bethlehem Steel Corp. of New York and two subsidiaries, Bethlehem Steel Co., Bethlehem, Pa., and Bethlehem Pacific Coast Steel Corp., San Francisco; the Geneva, Utah, plant of United States Steel Corp.; National Steel Corp., Pittsburgh, and a subsidiary, Weirton Steel Co., Weirton, W. Va.

The Colorado Fuel & Iron Corp., Denver, and a subsidiary, John A. Roebling's Sons Corp., Trenton, N. J.; Phoenix Iron & Steel Co., Phoenixville, Pa.; Granite City Steel Co., Granite City, Ill.; Lukens Steel Co., Coatesville, Pa.; Detroit Steel Corp., Detroit.

McLouth Steel Corp., Detroit; Baldwin-Lima - Hamilton Corp., Eddystone, Pa.; Edgewater Steel Co., Oakmont, Pa.; the Erie, Pa., plant of Bucyrus-Erie Co.; and Grinnell Corp., Providence, R. I.

Jobless Claim Total Mounts

Influenced by three consecutive weekly increases, claims for jobless benefits rose in November after declining in October, the Ohio State Employment Service office reported today in its monthly summary.

Claims last month totaled 1,901, or 48 more than were registered in October with 1,853. November claims included 344 new and 1,557 continuing compared to 302 new and 1,551 continuing for October, Harry L. Dinsmore, manager, said.

As the claims increased so did applications for work while the number of placements declined, Dinsmore said.

Applications for work totaled 1,039 compared to 915 in October while 53 placements were made compared to 60 in the previous month. The placements included one handicapped person last month and two in October.

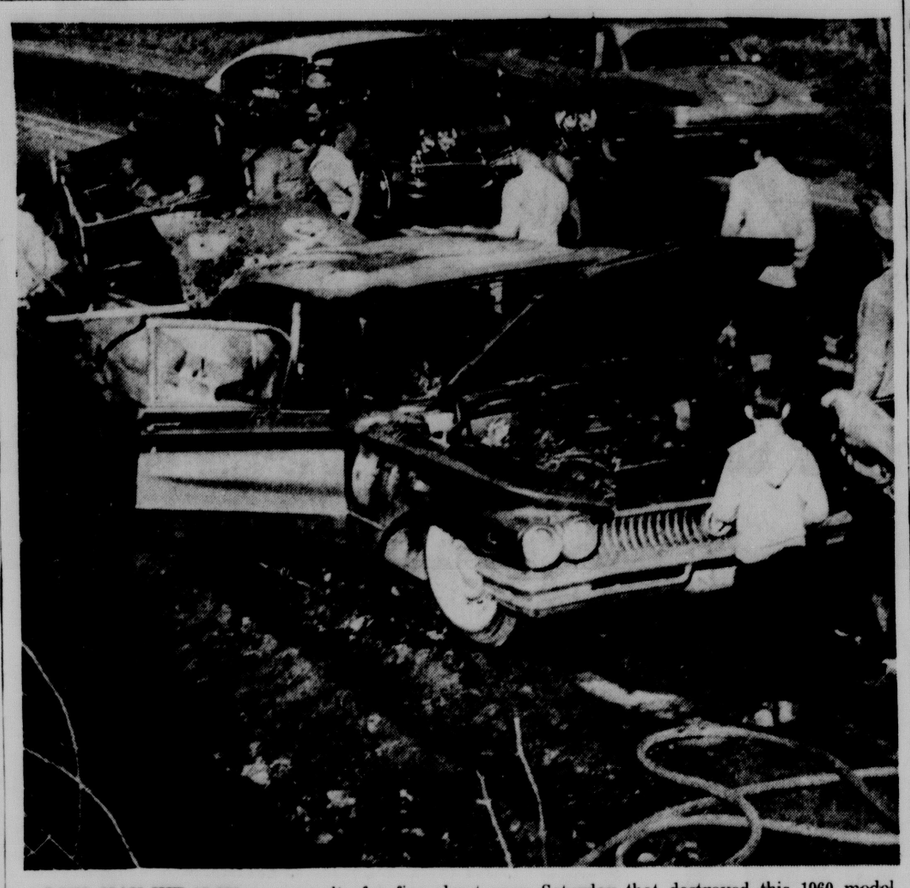
The office processed 486 applications for jobless benefits last week compared to 463 for the week ending Nov. 24, marking the third straight week the number of claims have increased, Dinsmore reported.

Claims last week included 71 new and 415 continuing, he added.

Meanwhile, benefit payments in October totaled $41,165 for an average weekly rate of $39.95.

The total brought the amount paid out through the local office for the first 10 months to $544,809, including $66,443 in dependency allowances, Dinsmore concluded.

Today, four pounds of feed make one pound of turkey. A few years ago, the feed-meat ratio was six to one.



LOSS MAY HIT $7,000 as a result of a fire about noon Saturday that destroyed this 1960 model auto of an Illinois couple and wiped out many of their possessions, which were stacked high in the back seat and in a utility trailer it was towing. The Glenmoor, LaCroft and Calcutta volunteer fire departments battled the blaze, which broke out on Route 30 at Cannons Mills. Mr. and Mrs. Earl Heckman were enroute from Plainfield, Ill., to Washington, Pa., where he has leased a service station. The trailer apparently worked loose from its hitch and hit the auto's gas tank, which then caught fire. The car and trailer were stacked high with a large variety of tools, along with household goods and clothing.

City Woman Named Mothers' March Head

A city woman has been named chairman of the 25th anniversary Mothers' March of Dimes in Columbiana County.

She is Mrs. Dorothy Crooks, whose appointment was announced by Richard G. Brian, campaign director.

Mrs. Crooks said her first task is to recruit as many volunteers as possible for the March of Dimes. She asked anyone willing to serve to contact her at FU 5-4785.

"Our 1963 March of Dimes theme is 'Give for the Life of a Child'", the chairman said. "I'm confident Columbiana County residents will respond when our Marching Mothers call."

"We give thanks for our healthy, normal children," Mrs. Crook said. "But what about the millions of dollars still needed each year to aid polio victims? How many are aware of the plight of children crippled and disabled by birth defects and arthritis?"

These are leading causes of crippling among children in this county and yet the majority of victims are not receiving the quality of medical care of which they are entitled.

"A child crippled by a birth defect or arthritis — just as we discovered in the polio fight — can be helped if he gets the proper medical care," she said "and that is a prime goal of the 1963 Mothers' March."

Mrs. Crooks said the 1963 Mothers' March will help expand the March of Dimes-financed network treatment centers for birth defects, arthritis and polio. There are more than 50 of the centers located in many parts of the country.

Through early and accurate diagnosis and timely treatments teams of medical specialists at the centers can often control or prevent progressive crippling, she said.

"Our aim is to make the best possible treatment available to everyone, everywhere."

Secret Gas Holds Key In Bid To Set Record

AVALON, Santa Catalina Island Calif. (AP)—Two frogmen are scheduled to make a record dive to 1,000 feet today, staking their lives on a secret mixture of gases they will breathe instead of air.

They are Hannes Keller, a Swiss mathematician who descended to 728 feet in June 1962, and skindiver John Light of New York, who is going along "to prove anybody can do it if they know the secret."

Most skindivers get the bends at depths below 200 feet, from extreme pressures which make the nitrogen in their blood and tissues bubble painfully, sometimes fatally.

Keller, who used a computer to work out his non-nitrogen breathing mixture, says he is confident he will eventually be able to reach 3,000 feet.

About 150 foreign correspondents covered the 1960 national presidential conventions.

Sessions Due On Milk Price

A public hearing will be held Dec. 11 in Youngstown to consider proposals to amend the federal milk order for the Greater Youngstown - Warren marketing area, the Department of Agriculture announced today.

The hearing will open at 10 a.m. in the Cascade Room of the Pick-Ohio Hotel. It is being held at the request of the Dairymen's Cooperative Sales Association, the major producer's co-operative in the market.

The association is proposing that the Class I (bottling milk) pricing provisions, which are due to expire Jan. 31, be extended to run indefinitely.

Other proposals being brought before the hearing would change certain order provisions relating to milk diversions, classification of butterfat and shrinkage allowances on bulk cream transfers.

After evaluating evidence brought out at the hearing, USDA may recommend amending the order. Producers and handlers then would be given opportunity to file exceptions, which would be considered by USDA before issuing a "final decision" to submit to producers for approval.

The pricing provisions of the Greater Youngstown - Warren order, which covers Trumbull and Mahoning Counties (except Smith Township), and Perry Township in Columbiana County have been in effect since Aug. 1, 1961. The order sets minimum prices to milk producers.

The 1962 hurricane roster list is: Alma, Becky, Celia, Daisy, Ella, Flossy, Freta, Hallie, Inez, Judith, Kendra, Lois, Marsha, Noreen, Orpha, Patty, Rena, Sherry, Thora, Vicky and Wilna.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: What does one say to children when they ask questions about an aunt who lives in a beautiful apartment, drives a new car every two years, wears elegant clothes, exquisite jewelry and furs, and doesn't have a job?

The truth is, she's the great and good friend of a rich old coot who is married.

Rita has a nice personality and always behaves like a lady. She is generous to her widowed mother and is always there with her check book when someone in the family needs help. I guess you'd call her a good egg.

But this doesn't alter the fact that she is a kept woman. Now, what do I tell my children?—STUCK FOR AN EXPLANATION.

Dear Stuck: Tell your children that Aunt Rita is good to her widowed mother, is always there with her check book when someone in the family needs help and that she is a good egg. This is all you know for sure—and it's all they need to know, too.

Son Needs Help

Dear Ann: When should parents stop trying to help their children? When they go away to college? When they become 21? When they marry? Is there a specific time when parents ought to let their children do exactly as they please without one word of criticism or advice?

Our son was graduated from the university four years ago. He now has a lovely wife and two darling children. This is the time when we should be proud of him but instead he's an embarrassment.

He used to be immaculate and a smart dresser. Now he gets his hair cut once in a blue moon. His clothes never are pressed and he goes without shaving for days at a time. His shabby appearance breaks my heart. He seems to have lost all self-respect.

As his mother, do I have the right to say something? —SAPHIRE.

Dear Saphire: Say something—to his wife. It's her responsibility now, not yours.

Personal appearance can be a barometer of daily pressures. The person who can't cope with problems often becomes careless about himself. Sloppiness in one who used to be immaculate may be a symptom of an emotional problem.

Mother Is Problem

Dear Ann: An awful lot of teenage girls write and tell you they want to go steady but their parents are against it. Well, this letter is from a girl who agrees with you that going steady can lead to all sorts of problems. I don't want to go steady—but my mother insists on it.

She claims it looks very bad for a young girl to be dating several different fellows. She says it causes gossip and gives the neighbors funny ideas.

Just to satisfy her I went with one fellow for six months. Because I was dating him exclusively, no one else would ask me out. I finally decided to stop going with the octopus and I stayed home until other fellows became interested in dating me.

Again I'm having trouble with my mother. She wants me to go with one fellow, and only one. Help me, please.—AGING FAST.

-:-

Dear Aging: I don't approve of going steady and I've spelled out the reasons countless times but I don't approve of 14 fellows in 14 nights, either.

It is perfectly respectable for a young girl to date five or six fellows, and I heartily recommend it.

Ohio Jumper Dies As Parachute Fails

RISING SUN, Ind. (AP)—The Cincinnati Sport Parachute Club's weekly outing ended tragically Sunday when Joe Niehaus, 23, fell to his death when his parachute failed to open.

Observers said Niehaus, a new member of the club, did not open his reserve parachute until too late. The jump was made from a Cessna 175 circling above the Ohio County Fairgrounds half a mile from the Rising Sun Airport.

Farmers In Russia See Red Over City 'Stinkers'

MOSCOW (AP)—Life down on the collective farm hasn't been the same since Soviet courts started shipping juvenile delinquents out of the big cities to work with the peasants.

Exasperated Ukrainian kolkhozniks—collective farmers—are telling authorities to quit sending problems — they have enough of their own.

The country folks' case against the government's program for "re-educating" young idlers who won't work was presented in the Kiev newspaper Pravda of the Ukraine.

"This is re-educating idlers?" the newspaper demanded in an article exposing the hijinks of the Soviet dead end kids among their country cousins.

Valentin Donskoy, chairman of the Makstroy state farm near Donetsk, said he and his farmers got a shipment of idlers last year.

"The worst of it is the drunkenness," he told an interviewer, "especially on paydays — then they drink for three or four days. They don't go out to work until they drink up everything."

Another state farm leader ruefully said: "Our village people are saying: 'If the city folks don't know how to bring them up, then what are we supposed to do?"

A district official said, "this was a nice quiet village district. But the cities started cleaning out their scum and dumping all the hoodlums on us."

If you like tangy flavor in your cheese sauce, add both Worcestershire sauce and cayenne pepper.

Akron Man, 50, Dies As Auto Rolls Off Pier

CLEVELAND (AP) — Several spectators watched helplessly Sunday as Earl Miller, 50, of Akron died after his car plunged into Lake Erie from a pier near Memorial Shoreway NW.

Witnesses said Miller rolled up the window and removed his hat after his auto hit the water but made no effort to escape as the vehicle sank. The coroner was expected to rule today.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: What does one say to children when they ask questions about an aunt who lives in a beautiful apartment, drives a new car every two years, wears elegant clothes, exquisite jewelry and furs, and doesn't have a job?

The truth is, she's the great and good friend of a rich old coot who is married.

Rita has a nice personality and always behaves like a lady. She is generous to her widowed mother and is always there with her check book when someone in the family needs help. I guess you'd call her a good egg.

But this doesn't alter the fact that she is a kept woman. Now, what do I tell my children?—STUCK FOR AN EXPLANATION.

Shipments From Florida

New Crop Of Citrus Fruit Arrives At Area Markets

A large volume of the new Florida citrus fruit crop is moving into the area market as the holiday season approaches, according to Ed Watkins, market information agent with the Agriculture Extension Service in Canfield.

Apples are moving onto the market from storage, with a wide variety available from district sources and from other states, Watkins said.

From local apple supplies, excellent quality general purpose McIntosh and Jonathan still are available in volume. Cortland season is on the wane.

Red and Golden Delicious are popular premium priced varieties for table use. Golden Delicious are quite popular for large baked apples.

Market reports indicate that smaller sized tangerines will be released for shipment, probably next week. This will lower the price per dozen, but not affect the price on a weight basis. At present there seems to be little price advantage on the smaller sized grapefruit.

Grapefruit varieties now on the market include Duncan (one with seeds, but good flavor) as well as white, pink and red seedless varieties. Both grapefruit and tangerine prices are steady.

Tangerines are not especially good keepers and should be used soon after purchasing. Grapefruit keeps well at cool temperature.

Shipping reports indicate prices on grapes will rise slowly for the next few weeks, although store specials are likely, especially on the red Emperor variety. Other grape varieties are Almerias, Calmerias and Ribiers. These are moving from storage stocks in California.

Two of the less widely used and more expensive fruits in season, that are of interest during this pre-holiday season are avocados and pomegranates. These fruits may be used for tasty salads.

Pork season still is very much a part of the meat picture. For economy cuts, pork shoulder roasts and picnics are popular. Ham will be featured increasingly in the coming weeks.

Beef prices are steady this week. Specials are evident on chuck roasts and steaks. There is a smaller price difference between grades of beef at this time. U.S. Choice and U.S. Good, the two most commonly used grades, are priced on the wholesale market about $2 per hundred pounds, or two cents per pound different.

Poultry remains as one of the plus values this week. A large supply of broilers to be marketed this month points to this item remaining on the good buy list.

Eggs have weakened in price a little. There still is a price difference which favors the small and medium sizes.

Local milk producers and processors report an ample supply, at unchanged prices. In fact, milk seems to be a feature of this week's markets, an ample supply at largely unchanged prices.

Deputies Investigate Weekend Burglaries

LISBON — Deputies are investigating two burglaries reported over the weekend, according to Sheriff Russell J. VanFossan.

Frank Mansel of State Route 517 near Price Orchard reported loss of a television set, antique handguns and rifles. He reported the loss from his unoccupied home Sunday afternoon, but said the entry could have taken place anytime in the preceding week.

The second entry was reported at the Robert D. Whitacre Coal Co. on the Old Steubenville Rd. in Wayne Township. The loss included a toolbox and tools worth $200, an outboard motor and a 20-inch chain saw. Deputy James Gause is investigating.

17 Cited For Whisky Sales In Huntington

HUNTINGTON (AP) — Cabell County sheriff's officers raided 17 establishments in Huntington Sunday night and arrested 17 persons on charges of illegal sale of liquor. About 100 bottles of whisky were confiscated.

Sheriff Harold Frankel and 11 deputies divided into four groups to stage the coordinated raids, timed to hit as many places as possible at the same time. The raiding parties communicated with each other by walkie - talkie radios.

Prosecutor Russell Dunbar and two of his assistants went along with the raiders.

One of the earliest and staunchest leaders of free trade was British statesman William E. Gladstone who served as prime minister four times between 1868 and 1894.

Mishap Hurts Chester Child

Eight persons injured in various weekend accidents, including five Sunday and three Saturday, were treated at City Hospital.

Those hurt yesterday included William Pittenger, 8, son of Earl Pittenger, 512 Florida Ave., Chester, who suffered a possible fractured collarbone while wrestling at home.

William Palmer, 21, of Toronto R. D. 2 suffered a laceration of the scalp when he bumped his head on a cupboard door.

Mrs. Ardis Baumgarner of Fairview Rd., Chester, was bitten on the knee by a dog while visiting friends in East Liverpool.

Richard Stovall, 20, of 1072 Mapletree St. cut his left index finger on a tin can at home.

Maxine Reedy, 17-month-old daughter of Thomas Reedy, 207 Walnut St., suffered second degree burns of the second and third fingers of the left hand and third degree burns of the index finger when she put her hand into a batch of candy being cooked.

Saturday's casualties included Carl Lee Duke, 4, son of Carl Duke of Baxter St., who suffered a fracture of the left arm when he fell while playing.

Mrs. Leora Grimes, wife of Ross Grimes, 2127 Sherwood Ave., spilled hot grease on herself, suffering first degree burns of the lower right leg and right thumb.

Vicki Lynn Baker, 2, daughter of Clarence Baker of Laurel Heights, Chester, cut her chin when she fell from bed at home.

The pack met at the church Friday night with James Graham, cubmaster, in charge. A program was presented by Mrs. Madeline Christy's den. Her den later served lunch.

Red and Golden Delicious are popular premium priced varieties for table use. Golden Delicious are quite popular for large baked apples.

Market reports indicate that smaller sized tangerines will be released for shipment, probably next week. This will lower the price per dozen, but not affect the price on a weight basis. At present there seems to be little price advantage on the smaller sized grapefruit.

Grapefruit varieties now on the market include Duncan (one with seeds, but good flavor) as well as white, pink and red seedless varieties. Both grapefruit and tangerine prices are steady.

Tangerines are not especially good keepers and should be used soon after purchasing. Grapefruit keeps well at cool temperature.

Shipping reports indicate prices on grapes will rise slowly for the next few weeks, although store specials are likely, especially on the red Emperor variety. Other grape varieties are Almerias, Calmerias and Ribiers. These are moving from storage stocks in California.

Two of the less widely used and more expensive fruits in season, that are of interest during this pre-holiday season are avocados and pomegranates. These fruits may be used for tasty salads.

Pork season still is very much a part of the meat picture. For economy cuts, pork shoulder roasts and picnics are popular. Ham will be featured increasingly in the coming weeks.

Beef prices are steady this week. Specials are evident on chuck roasts and steaks. There is a smaller price difference between grades of beef at this time. U.S. Choice and U.S. Good, the two most commonly used grades, are priced on the wholesale market about $2 per hundred pounds, or two cents per pound different.

Poultry remains as one of the plus values this week. A large supply of broilers to be marketed this month points to this item remaining on the good buy list.

Eggs have weakened in price a little. There still is a price difference which favors the small and medium sizes.

Local milk producers and processors report an ample supply, at unchanged prices. In fact, milk seems to be a feature of this week's markets, an ample supply at largely unchanged prices.

Deputies Investigate Weekend Burglaries

LISBON — Deputies are investigating two burglaries reported over the weekend, according to Sheriff Russell J. VanFossan.

Frank Mansel of State Route 517 near Price Orchard reported loss of a television set, antique handguns and rifles. He reported the loss from his unoccupied home Sunday afternoon, but said the entry could have taken place anytime in the preceding week.

The second entry was reported at the Robert D. Whitacre Coal Co. on the Old Steubenville Rd. in Wayne Township. The loss included a toolbox and tools worth $200, an outboard motor and a 20-inch chain saw. Deputy James Gause is investigating.

Prosecutor Russell Dunbar and two of his assistants went along with the raiders.

One of the earliest and staunchest leaders of free trade was British statesman William E. Gladstone who served as prime minister four times between 1868 and 1894.

Bringing Up A Family

By GARRY C. MEYERS

Physical Punishment Can Be Given

As you and I travel about in this country and abroad we can't help being impressed with the kindness and tenderness of most parents and other adults toward young children. In spite of these observations, we occasionally hear or read of the cruelty and brutality of parents toward children in the privacy of their homes. Recently there have appeared in magazines and newspapers some accounts of such barbarity at a few hospitals to which young children were brought with bruises or lacerations discovered by the surgeons to have been caused by brutal beatings by parents. When a number of such instances are depicted in one article it may arouse anxiety in the reader.

Dr. Garry Meyers

HOWEVER, IN most of these reports the mental and emotional instability of the guilty parents is pointed out as well as the need for better laws to enable the welfare organizations to take the defenseless youngsters away from dangerous and irresponsible parents and to seek ways of rehabilitating these parents as persons.

These news reports are of grave concern to those of us who advise parents to teach the tot early the meaning of "No" and to bring him up to be reasonably obedient.

When, for example, we advise parents, in a few selective situations, to smack the thighs or hand of the young child to teach him to avoid certain known dangers, won't some unwise, unfit parents suppose they have expert approval to slap and beat the youngster any time they are vexed at him?

Indeed, I can imagine some other persons saying, "Away with all use of physical pain to teach a tot the alphabet of safety, obedience and respect for the rights and feelings of other persons." Their argument may be, "Since a few parents beat their young children brutally, no parent ever should lay a hand on a child to restrain him."

AS YOU KNOW this argument widely prevailed some decades ago with the apparent result that many children now 10, 12 or 15, not having been reasonably restrained at two, three or five, are beyond control of their parents, even of officers of the law.

And who knows how many children lose their lives from accidents in the home and on the street because they never learned the meaning of No when they were tots? How many more are there who, for want of restraint, are deprived of the love they deserve from parents vexed at their disobedience?

I have consistently advised physical restraint of the tot only to deter him from dangers and from trampling on the rights of others. While I have approved a smack by the parent's bare, flat hand on the child's thighs to deter him in a few specific instances, I have urged that, as soon as the youngster accepts No as final and will stay where put, all spanking can and should cease.

SITTING UNAMUSED for a definite period instead should suffice and this transition should be aimed at before the age of five or six.

My bulletins, "Love and Restraint" and "To Spank or Not to Spank", may be had by sending a self - addressed stamped envelope to me in care of The Review.

Dieter Finds She Can Eat, Grow Slimmer

A working wife and mother finds herself in a dilemma. Since nature shortchanged her on calorie requirements, she must eat to keep nutrition up and calories down. She writes:

Ida Jean Kain

"My experience indicates, and my doctor concurs, that in order to control my weight at 120 pounds, I cannot consume more than 1,200 calories a day. I am 5 feet 2 tall and 33 years old. I am a job holder, wife and mother and so I must keep my energy up and guard my health.

"What selection of food is best and how can I distribute my calories? My tendency is to skip breakfast, have a salad for lunch and concentrate most of my calories at dinner. In making suggestions, please bear in mind that I have to cook for my family."

WORKING WIVES in this predicament, tune in: To keep vital nutrients up, and calories down, each food must furnish its full share of protective essentials.

First, however, let's see if inadvertently you are complicating the problem by skipping breakfast and slighting lunch.

Nature's most effective way of dealing with food, is to handle it in small divided loads. When you go without food all day long, you tend to overeat at dinner. And thus you set the stage for turning the excess food taken at that meal into fat.

If keeping weight controlled is a struggle on just one decent meal a day, why not turn your eating pattern around so as to take a fair share of the calories during the active part of the day. Under this system there will be no cause for accumulation of storage fat.

Breakfast: For 300 calories you can eat a good morning meal including fruit or juice, an egg, a strip of crisp bacon, thin slice of toast, lightly spread, and black coffee. On some mornings the choice might be cereal with a half cup of milk, plus a slice of toast, fruit and beverage.

Allow 400 calories for lunch and 100 calories for a late afternoon energy boost. No sweets.

Dinner: Plan the family meal around lean meat, fish or chicken; plus one starch food, and a green or yellow vegetable; a salad with French Dressing (1 Tbsp. for your portion). The dieter may have 100 calories in dessert. Total dinner calories: 550 to 600.

—:—

A DOCTOR FRIEND reported great success with this plan. His overweight patient complained of feeling tired and failed to reduce on 1,000 calories a day, taken mostly at dinner. He raised her calories to 1,500 a day, divided into three meals.

To her delight, she was able to lose weight on stepped up calories and had more energy on the right kind of food.

2 Youths Caught In Indiana Held For Ohio Police

LAPORTE, Ind. (AP)—A defective headlight led to the arrest near here Sunday of two teen-age brothers who were the objects of an intensive search Friday in the Upper Sandusky, Ohio, area.

Held for Ohio authorities were Reginald Perry Boltz, 18, and his 16-year-old brother, Kenneth. The pair was apprehended on the Indiana toll road in a stolen pickup truck.

Indiana state police stopped the pair Saturday night in northeastern Indiana, issued a warning citation for the defective headlight and allowed them to proceed. When the license number of the truck was checked it was found to have been stolen and the two were stopped again. They surrendered without incident. A loaded .410 shotgun and a .22 caliber rifle were found in the truck.

They are wanted in Ohio for allegedly attempting to wound an officer, burglary and stealing a truck.

The shooting occurred late Thursday when sheriff's deputies attempted to stop a car, later found to be stolen, and it sped away. In the chase one of the occupants fired two shotgun blasts at the deputies.

The car later was wrecked in a ditch and the two occupants fled into a wooded area. Officers combed the area Friday but gave up the search after receiving a report of a truck being stolen in Bloomville, Seneca County, Ohio.

Canton Bus Men End Day Strike

CANTON, Ohio (AP)—Bus drivers and maintenance men employed by Canton City Lines, Inc. returned to their jobs today, ending a one-day strike.

The members of Teamsters Local 489 agreed to end their walkout after the company received assurances from members of City Council Sunday that they would act favorably tonight on the firm's requests for a fare increase and a cut in service, said Carman J. Reynar, superintendent of the bus company.

Reynar said such action by Council would enable the company to put into effect a new 2-year contract with the union.

The strike started at midnight Saturday.

The new pact calls for a wage increase of six cents an hour the first year and another four-cent hike the second year.

Under the old contract, bus drivers received $2.38 an hour and the hourly rate for maintenance workers ranged from $2.17 to $2.48.

The company has requested an increase in the fare for adults from the present two tokens for 45 cents to be one token for 25 cents. It also wants to eliminate service on Sundays and holidays and after 9:15 p.m. daily.

The company claims it has lost $4,000 since April 11, when its last fare increase went into effect.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

Dear Heloise: My washing machine has one hose to bring the hot water, and another hose for the cold. I used to turn on the hot water and find that I was holding the cold water hose over the tub or vice versa.

So I took my bottle of red fingernail polish and painted the end of my HOT water hose and the HOT water spigot. Now it's simple to pick up the correct one! Suggest that others try this. Sure helpful.

VIRGINIA: You are a doll!

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: I make a "sponge" by stuffing several old nylon stockings into another one. My "sponge" can be used wet or dry and will not scratch. It's wonderful for dusting or putting a sheen on furniture.

MRS. J. A.

-:-

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: Try this method when you have to take your child's temperature:

Use a three minute egg timer and let the child watch the sand run through it! I keep my egg timer with my thermometer.

GRANDMOTHER.

Handy Mailing Carton

DEAR HELOISE: If you have a small item to mail and no container to put it in, try using empty frozen food boxes. Fill the container with tissue paper to make the box compact. The article can be sent through the mails with less chance of being lost in transit than a very small box. This is wonderful for sending earrings, pins and so forth. No crushing or getting lost.

Frozen vegetables leave very little residue on the box and it can be wiped dry with toweling.

R. BUCKLEY.

DEAR HELOISE: I want to share my hint on how to clean the collars of work shirts and house dresses. Wet the shirt in warm water, then spread a line of liquid hair shampoo on the dingy circle on the collar.

Drop this in your washing machine with hot or medium water and your regular soap. It's wonderful and will not fade colored shirts.

MRS. T. M. C.

DEAR HELOISE: I do wish that you'd ask your readers to "hunt" for the oldest household hint they have.

Perhaps some of them have old books which have been handed down through the generations and would be willing to share them with us.

Whether they are witty, out of date, or just plain absurd, it would give us a real kick and a few moments of laughter to just see what our grandmothers did!

PAUL.

DEAR FOLKS: If you do have an old household hint book that was handed down through the generations, why don't you pick out one of the most absurd ones you can find and send it to us? This would bring a little laughter into our drab household daily chores. We need that lift!

I have a book, nearly 100 years old. For example it says:

"When you have a headache, cut off a piece of brown paper sack and dip it in vinegar. Wrap this around your head and pin it with a safety pin and your headache will immediately be gone!"

If you have an old book, send us its most absurd hint.

Since letters do not have to be signed to appear in this column, address this type of hint to HELOISE'S FUN, care of The Review.

JE,POSE.

DEAR HELOISE: Here is a favorite hint of mine which works:

Many of us have damp basements or storerooms for our canned food and vegetables.

To keep mold from forming on the jars . . . wash the jars with a solution of vinegar and water!

CLOVER MENDENHALL.

DEAR HELOISE: Plastic ice cube trays in a jewelry drawer are wonderful for keeping earrings easily accessible and neat. Each pair can have its own little compartment.

Mildness Due In December

A mild December is due the district if the weather averages out for 1962, Edwin Copeland of Millport, U. S. weather observer, said in his monthly summary.

November posted below - normal temperatures and rainfall, according to Copeland, and with the year behind in both categories, December's weather should help make up the margins, he said.

The temperature last month averaged 39.2 degrees, four-tenths of a degree below the normal 39.6 in his 70-year records.

The high for the month was a 61 degrees Friday and the low reading was a 17 degrees last Monday.

There were 18 cloudy days, six partly cloudy and six clear, making the sunshine for November 30 per cent — which is the norm.

Rainfall amounted to 2.26 inches, compared to the normal 2.41 inches. Copeland said the year is 5.85 inches behind in normal rainfall, and 1962 had eight months in which the temperatures were below the norm.

"December should have above average temperatures in order to hit the yearly average — which it always does," he said.

"With the nice, dry fall, all the farm work is done and things are ready for winter, but we still need plenty of rainfall," he concluded.

Copeland left Sunday for a week of hunting in the Emporium (Pa.) area, along with Joseph Headley of Millersburg and George McPherson of Millport.

The U. S. state with the largest number of daily newspapers is California, with 129. Pennsylvania has 123 dailies and Texas 116. New York, however, leads all other states in total newspaper circulation.

Thieves Act To Serve Black Market In Wigs

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—The black market has turned blonde, brunette, red, and a variety of other shades. The latest item on the list is human hair at $150 per pound.

Police estimated thefts from wig shops over the weekend at more than 200 wigs and 20 pounds of hair and attributed them to professional thieves.

A heavy demand for wigs in South Florida has created the lucrative black market, said detective George Watson.

Pat Nixon Politicked Despite Rib Injuries

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (AP) —Patricia Nixon campaigned for her husband, Richard M. Nixon, while suffering from three cracked ribs, an informed source has revealed.

He said Mrs. Nixon kept the injury secret, although she was in intense pain for days, 'because she didn't want pity."

Mrs. Nixon received the injury in early October when she slipped on a bathroom floor in a San Francisco hotel.

Here's Way To Check Car In 'Short' Garage

One of the chief complaints heard today from the average home owner is that the garage is too short for his new car.

Fortunately, in the usual case, there are about two feet of room to spare between the bumper of the old car and the rear wall of the garage and another foot or two in the rear, which enables the typical new car to just fit into the space. However, this tight arrangement usually causes the rear wall to receive repeated bumps, no matter how slight. Thus the wall has been gradually pushed away from the floor slab and in some cases seriously weakened.

To build out the front wall of a garage is quite an expensive matter, since it involves rehanging the doors and changing the roof slope so that it falls properly to the new roof edge. In many instances, the owner has built out a shed-like addition in the rear wall to obtain the additional footage required to accommodate the new car. This is also something of a major operation.

For the close - fitting car the arrangement suggested here is entirely satisfactory.

The car is run in until the bumper is within 6 or 8 inches of the wall and then a 2-by-4 on the 2-inch side is laid on the floor and wedged tightly against the front tires. Measurements are then made and two short pieces of 2-by-4 are cut and installed. The tires press down upon this barrier rather than push it forward, and at normally slow speed the car is effectively stopped.

Winter Slump Cuts Building Starts In City

Approach of winter and the traditional slump in the construction trades cut to $14,900 the value of new building and remodeling that got under way in East Liverpool in November, off $41,475 from October's $56,375.

Mayor Bert H. Goodballet's office issued 10 building permits last month, most of them for comparatively minor remodeling and maintenance work. The 16 permits in October were swelled by a $25,000 commercial project.

The seasonal decline in building starts first was indicated in the October activity, which was off $36,000 from the $92,375 in September.

Here are the November permits, the persons to whom they were issued, the work authorized and the estimated costs:

Ralph Stanley, to erect a cement block building at 1971 Michigan Ave., $600.

John Mullin, to remodel a commercial building at 201 W. 6th St., $2,500.

Danny Robinson, to add a room to a house at 343 Ogden St., $500.

Robert E. Wagoner, to enclose the front porch of a home at 138 W. 2nd St., $100.

Mississippi-Ohio Oil Co., to erect a machinery shed on the River Rd., $1,000.

Sara and Maurice Rapport, to remove a porch roof at 129-135 W. 6th St., $100.

Charles R. Snyder, to erect a portable aluminum bulding in Riverside Park, $7,500.

Potters Construction Co., to repair fire damage in a house at 1012 Waterloo St., $1,700.

Mrs. George Pullins, to enclose a porch at 754 Armstrong Ln., $1,000.

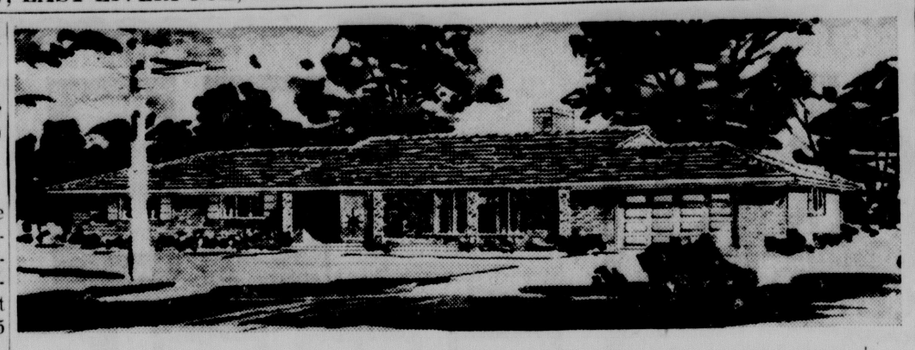
Jesse Allison, to add a room to a house at 1091 Monaca St., $300.

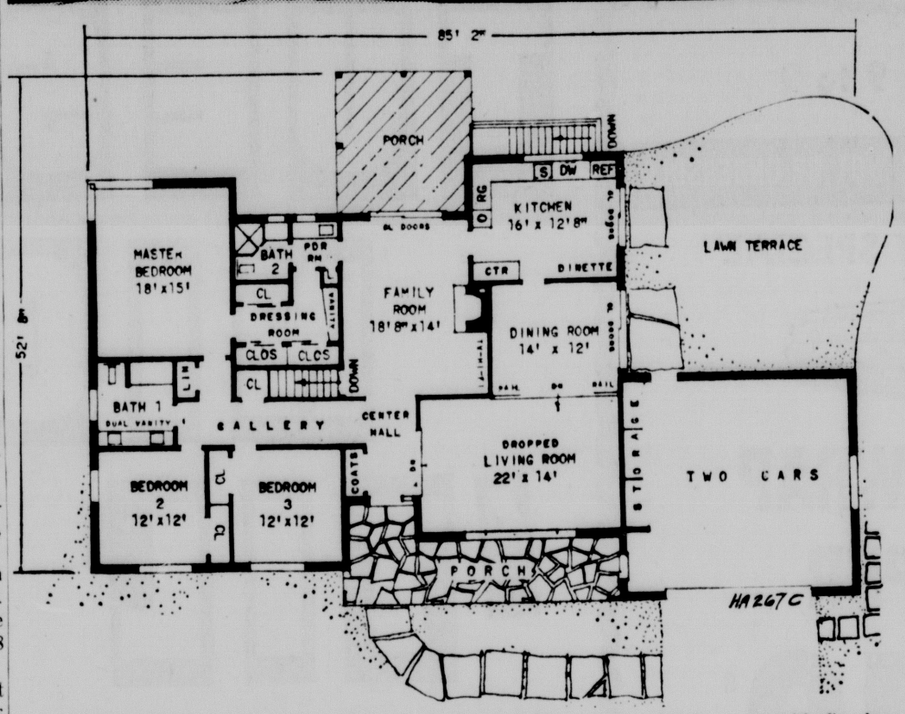
Car Fumes Overcome 5 In Italy, 2 Men Die

MAZZIN, Italy (AP)—Five persons out for a drive parked their car to chat and left the motor running.

Exhaust fumes overcame them all Saturday night. By the time passersby in this north Italian town investigated, Bruno Lorenz, 22, and his brother Mario, 23, were dead.

The others, two men and a woman, were hospitalized in serious condition.





HIGHLIGHTS OF this handsome home are the dropped living room, family room with fireplace and dressing area set aside for the spacious master bedroom. The home, Homes for Americans Plan HA267C, also has a separate dining room, two baths and luxurious closet space. Architect is Lester Cohen, Room 75, 117 W. 48th St., New York 36, N. Y. The house has 2,240 square feet of living space.

Amateur Home Builders Can Construct A Terrace

By DOUGLAS TUOMEY

Outdoor lounging, dining and general living are becoming standard practices with most American families. An open terrace, preferably with a permanent surface, offers the ideal area.

A substantial terrace can be arranged for and built by practically any intelligent home owner with little or no trouble, and the steps to follow are simple for the amateur mechanic.

The first move is to excavate the ground to frost-line along the edge of the terrace site and set forms 16 inches wide and 8 inches deep to receive the concrete for the footings. The mix to use is composed of cement, sand and gravel or crushed stone.

After the concrete has set for three or four days, cement or cinderblock is laid over it to the desired height for the terrace. Next, the area enclosed by the cement block wall is filled in with sand or soil, wet down, tamped well and allowed to weather and settle for a week or two. After that time the terrace is ready to be paved or finished.

There are several satisfactory ways to surface a terrace. One is with slate flags, another with brick laid in cement - mortar, another with a concrete slab and still another with brick laid dry in sand.

It all depends upon how much money you can afford for the surface and the amount of trouble you care to go to. Irregardless of the type of surface used, a neat row of bricks laid flat over the top of the cement block wall presents a good edging, and is easy to keep in repair.

Where a brick surface is selected, there are any number of designs which can be used to make an interesting and attractive surface. Squares, oblongs, herringbones and straight courses all are satisfactory, but in each case the bricks should be laid flat and spaced evenly for a uniform appearance.

Italian Boy, 16, Dies In Fireworks Mishap

NAPLES, Italy (AP) — Police reported the city's first fireworks victim of the Yuletide season, Sunday.

They said Antonio Maffetone, 16, was cruising along on his motorcycle with a big load of fireworks — illegal in Naples—when he missed a curve and crashed into a car. He died in the explosion of his cargo. The two car occupants were slightly hurt.

Proper Flooring Technique Aired

Question: I want to put down a tongue-and-groove hardwood floor over the subfloor. Can you give me some advice?

Answer: We hesitate to recommend that you tackle a project of this sort unless you have had some previous experience with a similar installation or, at the very least, with some kind of woodworking.

However, on the assemption that you have reason to believe you can handle the job, the following may help.

Be sure all loose boards in the subfloor are nailed down securely. Cover the floor with strips of building paper, running them lengthwise; that is, in the same direction in which the hardwood floor will be laid. Place the first strip parallel to the wall but with a space of from one-quarter to one-half an inch. The groove of the board should face the wall.

The first board is nailed through the top of the board into the subfloor, with the nails at intervals of 10 inches or so. The same board is then nailed into the floor underneath through the tongue.

The nailing is done at a 45-degree angle until it is almost flush with the wood, after which a nailset is used to drive it the rest of the way. Each succeeding board is placed so that its groove fits over the tongue of the preceding strip. Keep a piece of scrap flooring handy.

When you run into a stubborn fitting, place the groove of the scrap over the tongue of the board about to be nailed. Hammer the sides of the scrap, thus driving the flooring together without damaging the wood.

The last board, on the other side of the room, may have to be cut to fit in place, but whether it is or not, it will have to be face-nailed, just as the first one was.

Alarming Mistake

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — When fire engines answered an alarm in downtown Tucson, Arizona Daily Star staffers Ted Craig and Charles Burkhart offered a quick explanation for the false call. They had seen a young woman, letters in hand, reach up and pull the alarm, thinking that would allow her to deposit the letters in what she thought was a mail box.

Builders Seek Solutions To 'Quiet House'

By ANDY LANG
AP Newsfeatures

One of the concerns of the building industry is how to make the modern house more quiet.

There's no question that it can be done. The big problem is how to do it without too great an increase in costs.

There are far more noisemakers in today's homes than there were 50 years ago, chief among them motor - driven appliances. In addition, most homes are smaller than they used to be, yet have more open planning, a condition conducive to the spread of noise.

In an effort to find a solution, House and Home, a building industry publication, assembled 40 experts on the subject for a round-table discussion of the matter.

Some of their conclusions are interesting to anyone who owns a home or contemplates building, buying or remodeling one.

It was agreed that the controlling of noise at the source is the chief responsibility of manufacturers and builders.

Appliances can be made to operate at lower noise levels. Noisy rooms and the hallways connecting them to the quiet part of the house should have acoustical ceiling tile. Staggered studs, with insulation woven through them, or slotted studs will cut noise sharply.

Where common studs are used, a soft buffering material between the wall surface and the studs can help. The fewer holes cut in the wall the better.

It was also agreed that back-to-back wall swiches and outlets, as well as back-to-back medicine cabinets in adjoining bathrooms, make easy paths for sound through a wall.

The authorities felt that separate return air ducts reduce sound transmission; that quiet-flush toilets are necessary where noise must be cut down; and that carpeting is one of the most effective ways to block through-the-floor noise.

From these and many other conclusions, a participant in the roundtable, a builder from Dallas, Tex., decided to build a test house incorporating the sound - controlling features.

He adapted a production house which sold for $18,800 and which already had a number of the approved ideas about sound. Twenty - four changes were made at a cost of about two and one-half times the selling price of the house.

This was slightly more than what the roundtable considered a reasonable cost for a "peaceful" house, but it was considered acceptable, since some of the more expensive changes might be omitted in production houses of this type.

Many prospective home purchasers have indicated a desire to buy a quiet house. It will be interesting to see whether sound conditioning, at a slightly higher cost, will prove to be a strong sales feature.

Be sure all loose boards in the subfloor are nailed down securely. Cover the floor with strips of building paper, running them lengthwise; that is, in the same direction in which the hardwood floor will be laid. Place the first strip parallel to the wall but with a space of from one-quarter to one-half an inch. The groove of the board should face the wall.

The first board is nailed through the top of the board into the subfloor, with the nails at intervals of 10 inches or so. The same board is then nailed into the floor underneath through the tongue.

The nailing is done at a 45-degree angle until it is almost flush with the wood, after which a nailset is used to drive it the rest of the way. Each succeeding board is placed so that its groove fits over the tongue of the preceding strip. Keep a piece of scrap flooring handy.

When you run into a stubborn fitting, place the groove of the scrap over the tongue of the board about to be nailed. Hammer the sides of the scrap, thus driving the flooring together without damaging the wood.

The last board, on the other side of the room, may have to be cut to fit in place, but whether it is or not, it will have to be face-nailed, just as the first one was.

Alarming Mistake

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — When fire engines answered an alarm in downtown Tucson, Arizona Daily Star staffers Ted Craig and Charles Burkhart offered a quick explanation for the false call. They had seen a young woman, letters in hand, reach up and pull the alarm, thinking that would allow her to deposit the letters in what she thought was a mail box.

Why Not Include A Fitness Room?

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

If a family room seems like a static idea in that new house, why not build a recreation room instead, says athlete turned interior designer, Otto Knop.

A 12-letter high school athlete who made the little All-American football team as center at the University of Louisville in '50 and '52, rugged Knop says a fitness room would be one way to toughen the small fry and keep the adults in shape.

"The entire family could have wholesome recreation all the year 'round," he points out. "I'm trying to instill that idea in people building new homes."

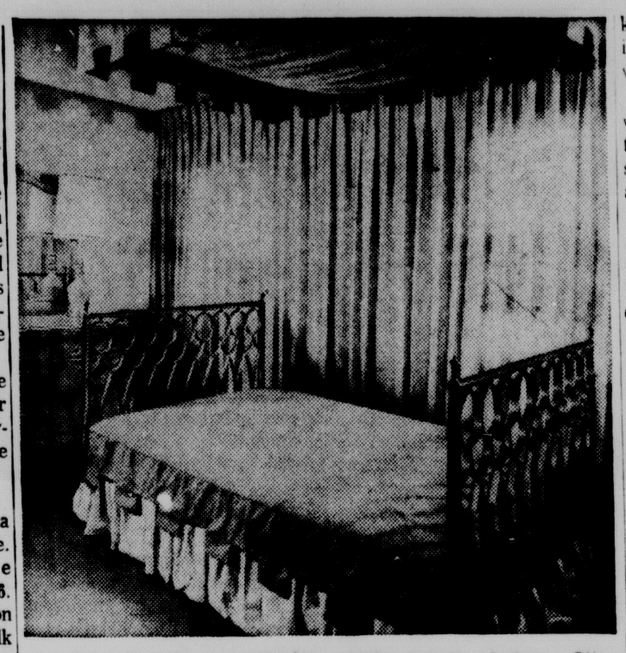
KNOP HAS left space for a gymnasium in his own new home. It will be soundproof. His five children range in age from 1 to 6.

"We are getting to be a nation of loungers with all of our talk about recreation. Comfort is a great thing but children should be taught the home is not just for sitting, watching television. A place where young people can rough house and adults can let off steam as well as develop their bodies could be planned on a budget with the small amount of equipment necessary to make it enjoyable," he explains.

Knop is no Saturday morning decorator. His forte is ideas on a budget. He worked on a part-time basis learning decorating "from the floor up, installing carpet" at a store in Louisville while he coached a high school football team. Then he married the boss' daughter.

"I really enjoy the challenge of decorating low-cost homes such as those I did recently at Sterling Park, Va. They were in the $14,000 to $21,000 bracket and people in the average income bracket of $7,500 who buy those homes usually need more advice on cutting corners than others," he says. The air-conditioned city is a 3,500 home community with underground utilities.

"I got in on the project too late to suggest a recreation room for every family," says Knop laughing, "but the planned 75-acre recreation area will have everything from Little League ballfields to an 18-hole golf course — a step in the right direction."



THE GRACIOUS, SPACIOUS LOOK. Interior designer Otto Knop, who decorates moderate-priced homes, provides a feeling of bedroom space with openwork metal bedsteads and interesting ceiling effects such as canopies. Knop, a former athlete, also advocates a "family fitness room" be included in new homes.

KNOP DID the exterior and interior colors and furnishings in 10 model homes for the development.

He has decorated the house in different styles from early American to Oriental but he's chosen sure - fire colors — the earthy browns, yellows, oranges; blues and greens "because they are successful colors and a woman knows she can find other furnishings and accessories to harmonize with them.

"Another thing I've tried to do with these small homes is make them look more spacious," he says. Here are some of his ideas:

Uses wall-to-wall carpet "for depth and dimension".

Carries wall coverings right into the closet.

Gives a broader look to a kitchen by putting grille work over a kitchen range that is next to a passageway or dinette.

Chooses light, airy bed headboards such as metal in architectural patterns.

Keeps different floorings in the same basic tone.

Interesting ceiling effects make a room seem larger. He likes ceiling canopies. One consists of 12-inch-wide strips of felt hung loosely across the ceiling with strips dangling for about a foot at each end.

The other is a canopy of cotton and rayon attached to the ceiling at four points with hardware. Little knobs are unscrewed when it must be removed for cleaning.

A do-it-yourselfer, Knop enjoys working around his own home.

"I decorated our home in colors my wife likes and looks best in, blues and greens — always a safe way for a man to choose in a color scheme," he advises.

Home Heating Matters Are Examined In Survey

By ANDY LANG
AP Newsfeatures

The various types of fuel used to heat a house have generated an intense competitive struggle to convince the public that one kind is necessarily better than the others.

Write a story which even remotely hints of the superiority of one of these heating products — and be prepared to withstand a bombardment of protests from the purveyors of the other fuels.

We mentioned this the other day during a discussion with Raymond Massey, managing director of the Gas Appliance Manufacturers Association.

He grinned and pointed out that we had effectively stopped him from discoursing on the advantages of gas heating. But, he added, gas industry heating experts had just completed a survey to determine the five most frequent and easy-to-fix home heating complaints.

Since all or some of the complaints apply to heating systems using different kinds of fuel, we thought we would pass along Massey's information.

1.—The thermostat frequently clicks on and off, yet the house remains uncomfortably cool. This may be caused by the fact that a lamp, TV set or other heat-producing appliance is too close to the thermostat.

Or, dust may be at the root of the problem. Although most new-style thermostats are dust - proof, many older types aren't. This condition usually may be corrected simply by lifting the thermostat cover and blowing briskly on the inside mechanism.

2.—The radiator is warm but the room is cold. This may be due to poor air circulation in the room. Warm air rises, but its movement may be slowed down if it has no place to go.

You can speed the process by keeping doors to the various rooms open. It really doesn't "save" heat to close off rooms and shut of radiators or registers in the closed - off sections.

3.—The rooms are drafty and the floors are cold. Just as you can speed air circulation in the manner just described, you can slow the flow of air by closing off air escapes. Many older homes and some new ones are not sufficiently insulated The addition of storm windows and doors can work wonders in such cases. Strategic use of weather stripping may be helpful, too.

4.—The boiler seems to be heating properly, but the radiators are cold. This may be a simple case of the radiators being airbound.

Air in the room helps circulate warmth, but air in a radiator can reduce its heat-producing capacity. All radiators, whether part of a hot water or steam system, have an air vent valve located on them.

Captive air in a hot water radiator can be released by opening the valve with either a screwdriver or a small key, depending or the style of the radiator.

It is best to hold a small pan under the valve for this operation because when all the excess air has left the radiator it will be followed by a flow of hot water. When this occurs, a turn of the key or screwdriver will again shut off the valve.

Steam radiator air vent valves function automatically. Occasionally, however, they become jammed.

When this happens, the valve can be removed for cleaning after shutting off the large hand valve on the supply side of the radiator. If the valve doesn't flush clean after holding it under a stream of water, let it soak over night in kerosene or other cleaning solution.

5.—The radiators make a loud knocking sound when the heat is turned up. In the case of a steam system, this may be caused by water accumulation in the radiator or its supply piping.

The solution is to raise the end of the radiator not connected to the pipe and prop it up with a small block of wood a quarter of an inch thick. The condensation in the radiator then will flow towards the pipe and return back into the system where it belongs.

Professional Help Urged For Interior Decorating

NEW YORK — When remodeling, bright young homemakers call in an architect or a contractor to do the basic renovations, but neglect to seek professional advice when it comes to furnishing the interiors.

They go to dentists, doctors and lawyers, when the need arises, but take on the job of fabric selector, color coordinator, room planner and house furnisher themselves. Then all too often they feel miserable because the results look so disorganized.

In a recent survey some of these bright young do-it-yourself home decorators and furniture coverers said they didn't know what else to do, that they had heard of interior designers but supposed them to be too modern, too conservative, too cold, too hot, too expensive . . . mainly too expensive.

To clarify these general misconceptions a leading member of the American Institute of Interior Designers when interviewed on the subject stated that just as national medical associations, national bar associations and many other important groups bring you professional people upholding the standards and qualifications of their profession, so does the American Institute of Interior Designers bring you individuals who by their training and experience are able to plan and supervise the designing and decorating of interiors and other furnishings.

They are able to organize the various arts and crafts essential to the jobs they undertake. The advice they give and the answers they have to many decorating and designing problems in any home, small or large, is person-to-person professional help, such as you receive from a doctor, a lawyer or any other specialist.

A member of the A.I.D. does not take your order for so many yards of fabric, so many pieces of furniture. He first sees the home he is to work in, and makes an interpretative study of your way of living, your personality, your likes and dislikes. Then he interprets these findings in a manner that is fresh, unstilted, correct in style, almost dateless in its good taste and interest.

Is it expensive? That depends on your point of view. Invariably an A.I.D. designer's knowledge of things available in all fields of furnishings saves his client considerable unnecessary expenditure. The wrong shade in a color can create discord impossible to endure; the purchase of an unknown or untested fabric can be costly.

Because the decorator plans and supervises every step of the work, all doubt and uncertainly are eliminated. In the majority of cases the services of the interior designer are compensated for in a normal profit between the wholesaler market price of the furniture, textiles, floorcoverings and accessories he purchases and the retail price, which the client would normally have to pay.

Tell your interior designer what needs to be done and he will tell you how it should be done and what it will cost, in advance of any assignment you may give him.

Fence Sagging? Then Try Stakes

Question: There is a fence in our backyard which is beginning to lean. Before it gets any worse, we would like to prop it up with stakes. Must the stakes be sunk in concrete?

Answer: If the stakes are to be 2 by 4s — or, even better, 4 by 4s — then a concrete footing is not necessary. However, place a flat rock at the bottom of each hole and rest the lumber on it.

Question: We'd like to put up folding doors on a hall room closet. Is this a job we can tackle ourselves?

Answer: Folding doors operate on an overhead track and if you follow the instructions that come with them, you should have no trouble in installing them properly. Folding doors operate best when they are pushed gently at the proper height.

Small children cannot reach that height and are inclined to pull and tug at the doors, sometimes damaging them. If you have children, it would be wise to place handles on the doors.

Dynamite Bomb Found In Sedan Of Cleveland Man

CLEVELAND (AP) — Robert Hill received good service at a service station near his East Side home. His gas tank was filled, oil and water checked and a bomb removed from his motor.

According to Detective Sgt. Rudy Marik, these events occurred Sunday:

A friend of the attendant stopped by the station and noticed a cigar box attached to the motor of Hill's car. He pulled it out and, realizing it might be a bomb, threw it on the ground.

Police were called and Detective Norman Roubal disarmed a bomb, comprised of two sticks of dynamite, and wrapped the detonator cap in a blanket. Within five minutes, the detonator cap exploded.

The bomb was equipped with a timing device—similar to one used in washing machines — which made it unnecessary to start or run the motor for an explosion to occur. There was no electrical connection between the bomb and the motor. Two flashlight batteries which were hooked up to the bomb would have provided enough power to set off an explosion, Marik said.

Hill, 61, said he didn't know why anyone would want to blow up his car. He had been driving alone. Marik said Hill had a police record for confidence games, picking pockets and gambling.

It took the first congress in 1789 three sessions and 519 days to transact its business.

Unusual Ordinance Results In Crackdown

LONDON, Ohio (AP) — The wheels of justice rolled quickly Sunday as London cracked down with a unique city ordinance.

Ralph H. Rockwell, bartender at the Veterans of Foreign Wars Club here, was charged with two counts of filing an incorrect inventory of intoxicating liquor stocks and in less than an hour was fined $100 and costs.

The city ordinance, which Mayor Bryan Jenkinson says is the only one of its kind in Ohio, states that liquor permit holders intending to open on Sunday must store all stocks of intoxicants, other than 3.2 per cent beer, in a vault, have it sealed by a city official and submit an inventory of the stock not later than 15 minutes before the legal closing time Saturday night.

Doctors agree that a high level of noise causes fatigue. Because wood absorbs harsh noises it makes an ideal wall paneling in the home or office.

The wrong shade in a color can create discord impossible to endure; the purchase of an unknown or untested fabric can be costly.

Because the decorator plans and supervises every step of the work, all doubt and uncertainly are eliminated. In the majority of cases the services of the interior designer are compensated for in a normal profit between the wholesaler market price of the furniture, textiles, floorcoverings and accessories he purchases and the retail price, which the client would normally have to pay.

Tell your interior designer what needs to be done and he will tell you how it should be done and what it will cost, in advance of any assignment you may give him.

Fence Sagging? Then Try Stakes

Question: There is a fence in our backyard which is beginning to lean. Before it gets any worse, we would like to prop it up with stakes. Must the stakes be sunk in concrete?

Answer: If the stakes are to be 2 by 4s — or, even better, 4 by 4s — then a concrete footing is not necessary. However, place a flat rock at the bottom of each hole and rest the lumber on it.

Question: We'd like to put up folding doors on a hall room closet. Is this a job we can tackle ourselves?

Answer: Folding doors operate on an overhead track and if you follow the instructions that come with them, you should have no trouble in installing them properly. Folding doors operate best when they are pushed gently at the proper height.

Small children cannot reach that height and are inclined to pull and tug at the doors, sometimes damaging them. If you have children, it would be wise to place handles on the doors.

Dynamite Bomb Found In Sedan Of Cleveland Man

CLEVELAND (AP) — Robert Hill received good service at a service station near his East Side home. His gas tank was filled, oil and water checked and a bomb removed from his motor.

According to Detective Sgt. Rudy Marik, these events occurred Sunday:

A friend of the attendant stopped by the station and noticed a cigar box attached to the motor of Hill's car. He pulled it out and, realizing it might be a bomb, threw it on the ground.

Police were called and Detective Norman Roubal disarmed a bomb, comprised of two sticks of dynamite, and wrapped the detonator cap in a blanket. Within five minutes, the detonator cap exploded.

The bomb was equipped with a timing device—similar to one used in washing machines — which made it unnecessary to start or run the motor for an explosion to occur. There was no electrical connection between the bomb and the motor. Two flashlight batteries which were hooked up to the bomb would have provided enough power to set off an explosion, Marik said.

Hill, 61, said he didn't know why anyone would want to blow up his car. He had been driving alone. Marik said Hill had a police record for confidence games, picking pockets and gambling.

It took the first congress in 1789 three sessions and 519 days to transact its business.

Unusual Ordinance Results In Crackdown

LONDON, Ohio (AP) — The wheels of justice rolled quickly Sunday as London cracked down with a unique city ordinance.

Ralph H. Rockwell, bartender at the Veterans of Foreign Wars Club here, was charged with two counts of filing an incorrect inventory of intoxicating liquor stocks and in less than an hour was fined $100 and costs.

The city ordinance, which Mayor Bryan Jenkinson says is the only one of its kind in Ohio, states that liquor permit holders intending to open on Sunday must store all stocks of intoxicants, other than 3.2 per cent beer, in a vault, have it sealed by a city official and submit an inventory of the stock not later than 15 minutes before the legal closing time Saturday night.

Doctors agree that a high level of noise causes fatigue. Because wood absorbs harsh noises it makes an ideal wall paneling in the home or office.

Midland Drops ELHS In Overtime Tilt, 57-52

Bowersock's Basket Ties Game At Final Buzzer; 1,500 See Battle

By BOB DUFFY
Review Sports Editor

Jim Harris and Hank Kuzma may end up being steady customers to the ulcer department if the remainder of the 1962-63 basketball season follows the same pattern as Saturday night's thriller at Midland.

Kuzma's Midland Leopards, a surprising bunch playing with only one regular from last season's standout club, proved the better team in the extra period to nip East Liverpool, 57-52, in an overtime battle.

An excited crowd of 1,500 fans, a full house at Midland, was on its feet most of the final minutes to watch an ending that had all the earmarks of a tournament contest even though it was the opener for both teams.

The two rivals battled to a 50-50 tie at the end of the regulation game and to gain the tie East Liverpool had to stage a great comeback, which saw the Blue and White bounce from seven points behind in the last four minutes.

Pint-size Dave Bowersock, starting his first varsity game, provided the heroics for the moment by giving the Potters new life with the bucket that sent the game into overtime.

BOWERSOCK took a tip of a jump ball from Randy Stover at the Potters' end of the floor. From the end of the foul circle, he let fly with a hurried one - hand jump shot that sailed through the air as the buzzer sounded and dropped through the hoop to tie things at 50-50.

Only one second showed on the clock when Stover and Norman Vanlier were involved in a jump ball. There was a heated discussion at the scoring table on whether or not the field goal was good. After the air had cleared, the officials ruled the bucket good and the three-minute overtime period opened.

The overtime belonged to Midland. Kuzma's team, which went in spurts all through the contest, followed the same pattern in the overtime by scoring seven straight points to go out in front 57-50 before Bowersock scored the only field goal for the Potters with little time remaining.

WITH 2:52 left in the overtime, Bill Sallis, the lone letterman on the squad, dropped in one of two fouls. Vanlier, a sophomore who proved quite a star in his debut as a varsity performer, picked off a bad pass by the Potters, drove half of the court for a layup and pushed the score to 53-50. The youngster hit again with 1:47 remaining for a 55-50 lead, then Sallis capped the Midland scoring at 1:19 to put the game out of reach.

Saturday's game was the most thrilling ever played by East Liverpool and Midland. The score was tied on 11 occasions and the widest margin in the game was nine points.

Midland owned an eight - point margin with 4:41 remaining after Ron Alston had dropped in a foul to make it 46-38.

With 3:54 showing on the clock, the Potters went to work on the Midland lead. Ed Prentice dropped in a pair of fouls, but Vanlier scored one from the charity stripe.

THERE was 3:43 left when Stover added two fouls, cutting the lead to five points. Frank McComas hit twice from the foul line, then with 2:11 left, Bowersock came up with a steal, dribbled half the court and plunked in a two-pointer which brought Midland's lead to one point, 47-46.

Sallis, with a foul shot, pushed the lead back to two points, but set the stage for Stover who made a beautiful move along the end line, driving around his guard for a layup which knotted the score at 48-48 and only 1:05 left.

MIDLAND took a timeout with 53 seconds to go. The Leopards, as in the past, were expected to wait and take the last shot, but Sallis dropped in a bucket from the pivot with 29 seconds to go, putting Midland in front 50-48.

It seemed, East Liverpool's chances went out the door when Tom Kraft let fly with a shot that missed, but the Potters were given another chance when Midland was called for a violation after grabbing the rebound.

With eight seconds left, Kraft shot again but missed, then Stover and Vanlier were involved in a jump ball with only a second to go. Bowersock then sent the game into overtime.

WHILE the Potters moved the ball well and didn't commit as many turnovers as Midland, East Liverpool lacked the shooting and rebounding. Midland only took 48 shots, but made 23 for a fine 47 per cent shooting night. The Potters got 63 shots off and made 17 for about 27 per cent.

Three Potters were in the double figures. Prentice showed the way with 11, while McComas and Bowersock each scored 10. Dean Cline added nine and Linville dropped in eighth.

Sallis, as expected, was the leading point producer for Midland with 16, while Gary Perkins scored 12 by netting six straight field goals and hitting six for eight shots. Ron Alston, a junior, added 10 and the spunky Vanlier tallied nine.

EAST Liverpool led at the end of the first quarter 13-12, fell behind 26-23 at halftime and trailed again by one 37-36 after three periods.

Harris praised the work of Prentice and Bowersock. Prentice probably turned in his best all-around performance in his three years as a Potter regular. "He worked the boards well and scored 11 points. I thought he did a fine job," Harris said.

For starting his first varsity game, Bowersock, a clever backcourt man, turned in a solid defensive game and still managed to hit the double figures. He dropped in five of seven field goal attempts.

Linville came up with an average performance, but the Potter coach showed signs of disappointment in Cline and McComas. Harris figured this pair could give the Potters a sound scoring punch, but they were not quite up to par Saturday night.

The Potters lost Linville with 4:41 and Prentice with 3:45 remaining by the personal foul route, while Alston fouled out with 3:43 left.

Stanton Five Bows To Visitors 47 To 44

Stanton Local's rebuilt basketball forces came close but dropped their first regular season game in two years to Brilliant, 47-44, Saturday night at the new Stanton gymnasium.

The contest was nip and tuck right up to the wire. Brilliant led at each quarter mark, 13-11, 25-23 and 37-33.

Coach Harry Diehl's team held Brilliant's Steve Peaytt to only nine points. The 6-foot-3 star had scored 30 points the night before against Smithfield. Scott led Brilliant with 14.

Stanton showed a balanced attack with three starters in the double figures. Scott Porter fired in 16 points, while sophomore Larry Mills gave a good account in his first starting role with 13. Marlon McCuen, the only letterwinner back from last year's undefeated team, hit the cords for 11.

A crowd of some 700 looked on as the new floor was used for the first time at Stanton Local High School.

The Stanton reserves came out on top with a 27-22 victory in the preliminary.

The Red Raiders will entertain Salineville Friday, then travel to Wayne Saturday.

Chandler Boots Giants Into 2nd Conference Title

By JACK CLARY
Associated Press Sports Writer

In his first six seasons with the New York Giants, Don Chandler never scored a point. Today, the Giants are worshipping at his feet, particularly the right one which booted them into their second straight National Football League Eastern Conference title and their fifth in seven years.

Chandler, used solely as the team's punter until this season, kicked four field goals and two extra points Sunday as the Giants edged the Chicago Bears 26-24 for their seventh straight victory and clinched the title. It was the second time in the last three games, and third time this season that Chandler's kicking has brought the Giants a victory.

Just who the Giants opponent will be in the Dec. 30 championship game at Yankee Stadium still is unsettled, but it looks like Green Bay again. The Packers, who humiliated New York 37-0 last Dec. 31 for the NFL title, have a one-game edge on the Detroit Lions in the battle for the Western Conference crown. Each has two games left.

The Packers, now 11-1, bombed the Los Angeles Rams 41-10 while second-place Detroit (10-2) edged the Baltimore Colts 21-14 for its sixth straight victory. It is strictly a two-team race in the West as the Giants eliminated the Bears from anything higher than a third-place finish, and caused the Eastern race to be reduced to a four-way fight for second place and a spot in the Miami, Fla., Playoff Bowl on Jan. 5.

The Pittsburgh Steelers (7-5) moved into second place in the East with a 19-7 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals (2-9-1). Cleveland dropped to third with a 6-5-1 mark following a 45-21 trouncing from the Dallas Cowboys (5-6-1). Washington's Redskins (5-5-2) stayed in the fight, even though they lost their third in a row, to the Philadelphia Eagles 37-14.

In the other NFL game, the San Francisco 49ers rode John Brodie's four touchdown passes to a 35-12 victory over the Minnesota Vikings (2-9-1). The victory was the 49ers (6-6) third in a row and kept them in the battle for third place with the Colts (5-7) and Bears (7-5).

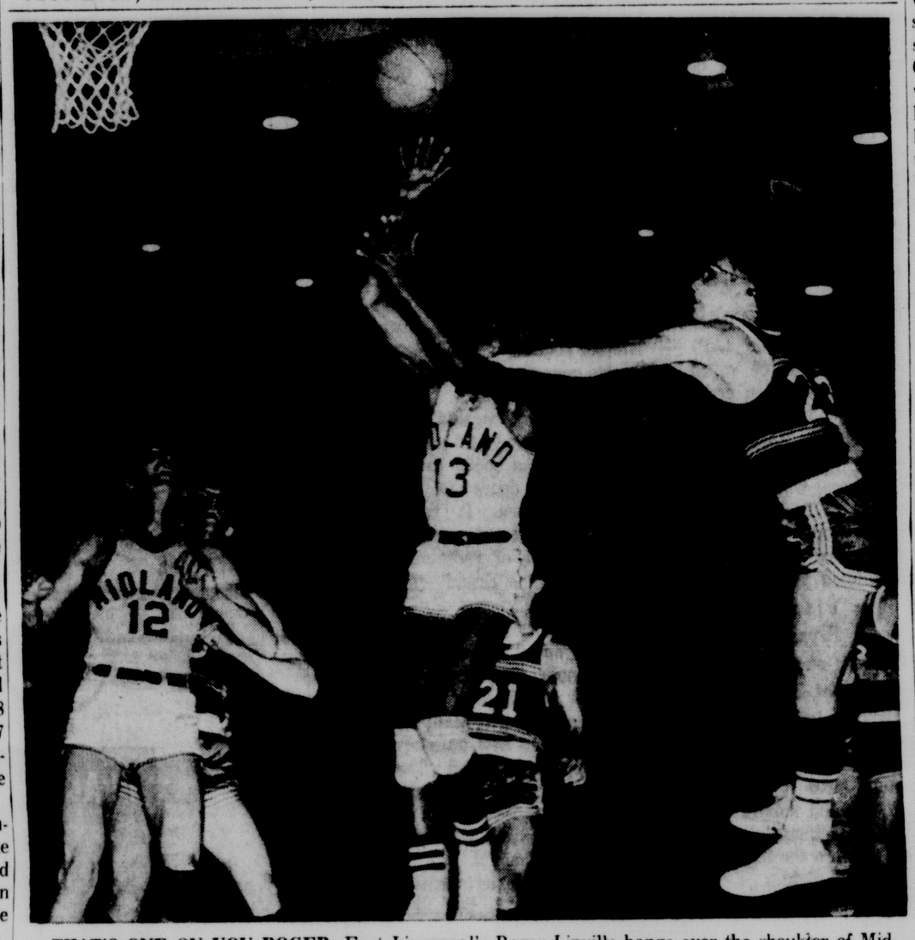
In the American League, Dallas wrapped up the Western Division title, despite losing to the Buffalo Bills 23-14. Second-place Denver fell before Eastern Division-leading Houston 34-17. San Diego handed Oakland its 18th consecutive loss over two seasons, 31-21, in the other scheduled game.

The title was the Giants' 13th overall, but wasn't secured until the final seconds when defensive end Andy Robustelli nailed quarterback Billy Wade on a pass play, costing Chicago field goal range.

The Packers, who can clinch a tie for their third straight Western Conference title next Sunday in San Francisco, got the first prolonged action from halfback Paul Hornung since Oct. 14 when he was shelved with a twisted right knee.

Last year's NFL most valuable player caught one of Bart Starr's two touchdown passes and gained 27 yards rushing until he retired in the third period.

The robin is the most common of the American thrushes.



THAT'S ONE ON YOU ROGER. East Liverpool's Roger Linville hangs over the shoulder of Midland's Norman Vanlier (13) and was called for a foul during action in Saturday's Potter-Leopard game at Midland. No. 12 for Midland is Ron Alston, while directly in back of him is East Liverpool's Frank McComas.

Newell Launches Season Whipping Augusta, 74-42

The Newell Vikings got off to a good start on their final season as they downed the Augusta Blue Devils, 74-42, Saturday night at Augusta.

The Vikings held a one - point lead at the first quarter mark, 14-13, but enlarged it to 11 points, leading 33-22 at halftime.

Newell unleashed a 28 - point barrage in the third period while holding the Blue Devils to 12 to put the game on ice.

With a 61-34 margin at the end of the third quarter, Coach John Robison swept the bench, giving all the varsity Vikings a chance to see action.

The Vikings showed a balanced scoring punch in their first outing as four of the starting five hit in the double figures. Sam Simmons and Fred Ferrell led the offensive with 17 points each, while Jim Johnson was close behind with 15. Terry Robinson chipped in with 10.

Newell will open the home season Tuesday against Southside.

The Newell reserves made it a perfect evening as they staved off a last-quarter rally by Augusta to take the preliminary, 38-32. Denny Smith led the reserves with 15 points, while Franklin was high with 10 for Augusta.

Akenhead's 16 points paced Sebring, while Bud Hawkins dropped in 12 and Ken Votaw 11 in United's losing cause.

The United reserves won 35-30.

Toncic Shines As Wheeling Captures UFL Championship

WHEELING (AP) — Quarterback Ivan Toncic passed for two of Wheeling's four touchdowns yesterday afternoon as the Ironmen ended their first season in the United Football League with a 30-21 victory over Grand Rapids in the playoff for the league championship.

Wheeling went into the fourth quarter of the playoff between the two divisional champions with a slim 17-15 lead.

The Ironmen padded their margin when defensive halfback Dick McKenna intercepted a pass on the Grand Rapids 23 and took it for a touchdown. Carl Crawley's kick for conversion missed and Wheeling led 23-15.

But the Blazers drove 81 yards to score after the next kickoff. Ed Chlebek passed to Cliff Jackson for five yards on the touchdown play. Quarterback Ed Trancygier was stopped on an end sweep trying for a two-point conversion which would have tied the score.

Bowersock's Basket Ties Game At Final Buzzer; 1,500 See Battle

With eight seconds left, Kraft shot again but missed, then Stover and Vanlier were involved in a jump ball with only a second to go. Bowersock then sent the game into overtime.

—:—

WHILE the Potters moved the ball well and didn't commit as many turnovers as Midland, East Liverpool lacked the shooting and rebounding. Midland only took 48 shots, but made 23 for a fine 47 per cent shooting night. The Potters got 63 shots off and made 17 for about 27 per cent.

Three Potters were in the double figures. Prentice showed the way with 11, while McComas and Bowersock each scored 10. Dean Cline added nine and Linville dropped in eighth.

Sallis, as expected, was the leading point producer for Midland with 16, while Gary Perkins scored 12 by netting six straight field goals and hitting six for eight shots. Ron Alston, a junior, added 10 and the spunky Vanlier tallied nine.

EAST Liverpool led at the end of the first quarter 13-12, fell behind 26-23 at halftime and trailed again by one 37-36 after three periods.

Harris praised the work of Prentice and Bowersock. Prentice probably turned in his best all-around performance in his three years as a Potter regular. "He worked the boards well and scored 11 points. I thought he did a fine job," Harris said.

For starting his first varsity game, Bowersock, a clever backcourt man, turned in a solid defensive game and still managed to hit the double figures. He dropped in five of seven field goal attempts.

Linville came up with an average performance, but the Potter coach showed signs of disappointment in Cline and McComas. Harris figured this pair could give the Potters a sound scoring punch, but they were not quite up to par Saturday night.

The Potters lost Linville with 4:41 and Prentice with 3:45 remaining by the personal foul route, while Alston fouled out with 3:43 left.

Stanton Five Bows To Visitors 47 To 44

Stanton Local's rebuilt basketball forces came close but dropped their first regular season game in two years to Brilliant, 47-44, Saturday night at the new Stanton gymnasium.

The contest was nip and tuck right up to the wire. Brilliant led at each quarter mark, 13-11, 25-23 and 37-33.

Coach Harry Diehl's team held Brilliant's Steve Peaytt to only nine points. The 6-foot-3 star had scored 30 points the night before against Smithfield. Scott led Brilliant with 14.

Stanton showed a balanced attack with three starters in the double figures. Scott Porter fired in 16 points, while sophomore Larry Mills gave a good account in his first starting role with 13. Marlon McCuen, the only letterwinner back from last year's undefeated team, hit the cords for 11.

A crowd of some 700 looked on as the new floor was used for the first time at Stanton Local High School.

The Stanton reserves came out on top with a 27-22 victory in the preliminary.

The Red Raiders will entertain Salineville Friday, then travel to Wayne Saturday.

The Newell Vikings got off to a good start on their final season as they downed the Augusta Blue Devils, 74-42, Saturday night at Augusta.

The Vikings held a one - point lead at the first quarter mark, 14-13, but enlarged it to 11 points, leading 33-22 at halftime.

Newell unleashed a 28 - point barrage in the third period while holding the Blue Devils to 12 to put the game on ice.

With a 61-34 margin at the end of the third quarter, Coach John Robison swept the bench, giving all the varsity Vikings a chance to see action.

The Vikings showed a balanced scoring punch in their first outing as four of the starting five hit in the double figures. Sam Simmons and Fred Ferrell led the offensive with 17 points each, while Jim Johnson was close behind with 15. Terry Robinson chipped in with 10.

Newell will open the home season Tuesday against Southside.

Toncic Shines As Wheeling Captures UFL Championship

WHEELING (AP) — Quarterback Ivan Toncic passed for two of Wheeling's four touchdowns yesterday afternoon as the Ironmen ended their first season in the United Football League with a 30-21 victory over Grand Rapids in the playoff for the league championship.

Wheeling went into the fourth quarter of the playoff between the two divisional champions with a slim 17-15 lead.

The Ironmen padded their margin when defensive halfback Dick McKenna intercepted a pass on the Grand Rapids 23 and took it for a touchdown. Carl Crawley's kick for conversion missed and Wheeling led 23-15.

But the Blazers drove 81 yards to score after the next kickoff. Ed Chlebek passed to Cliff Jackson for five yards on the touchdown play. Quarterback Ed Trancygier was stopped on an end sweep trying for a two-point conversion which would have tied the score.

Chandler Boots Giants Into 2nd Conference Title

By JACK CLARY
Associated Press Sports Writer

In his first six seasons with the New York Giants, Don Chandler never scored a point. Today, the Giants are worshipping at his feet, particularly the right one which booted them into their second straight National Football League Eastern Conference title and their fifth in seven years.

Chandler, used solely as the team's punter until this season, kicked four field goals and two extra points Sunday as the Giants edged the Chicago Bears 26-24 for their seventh straight victory and clinched the title. It was the second time in the last three games, and third time this season that Chandler's kicking has brought the Giants a victory.

Just who the Giants opponent will be in the Dec. 30 championship game at Yankee Stadium still is unsettled, but it looks like Green Bay again. The Packers, who humiliated New York 37-0 last Dec. 31 for the NFL title, have a one-game edge on the Detroit Lions in the battle for the Western Conference crown. Each has two games left.

The Packers, now 11-1, bombed the Los Angeles Rams 41-10 while second-place Detroit (10-2) edged the Baltimore Colts 21-14 for its sixth straight victory. It is strictly a two-team race in the West as the Giants eliminated the Bears from anything higher than a third-place finish, and caused the Eastern race to be reduced to a four-way fight for second place and a spot in the Miami, Fla., Playoff Bowl on Jan. 5.

The Pittsburgh Steelers (7-5) moved into second place in the East with a 19-7 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals (2-9-1). Cleveland dropped to third with a 6-5-1 mark following a 45-21 trouncing from the Dallas Cowboys (5-6-1). Washington's Redskins (5-5-2) stayed in the fight, even though they lost their third in a row, to the Philadelphia Eagles 37-14.

In the other NFL game, the San Francisco 49ers rode John Brodie's four touchdown passes to a 35-12 victory over the Minnesota Vikings (2-9-1). The victory was the 49ers (6-6) third in a row and kept them in the battle for third place with the Colts (5-7) and Bears (7-5).

In the American League, Dallas wrapped up the Western Division title, despite losing to the Buffalo Bills 23-14. Second-place Denver fell before Eastern Division-leading Houston 34-17. San Diego handed Oakland its 18th consecutive loss over two seasons, 31-21, in the other scheduled game.

The title was the Giants' 13th overall, but wasn't secured until the final seconds when defensive end Andy Robustelli nailed quarterback Billy Wade on a pass play, costing Chicago field goal range.

The Packers, who can clinch a tie for their third straight Western Conference title next Sunday in San Francisco, got the first prolonged action from halfback Paul Hornung since Oct. 14 when he was shelved with a twisted right knee.

Last year's NFL most valuable player caught one of Bart Starr's two touchdown passes and gained 27 yards rushing until he retired in the third period.

The robin is the most common of the American thrushes.

CHESTER BANQUET SCENE. Carl Gillespie, 190-pound junior tackle (center), chats with Coach Dom Amedeo (right) and former Weir High coach Carl Hamill after winning the "Most Valuable Player" award at the annual football banquet Saturday night. Gillespie's name will be the final added to the plaque denoting past winners. Chester joins two other schools in a new consolidated building next season after years of prominence on the gridiron. Hamill was guest speaker.

Gillespie Named 'MVP' At Chester Grid Finale

By CHUCK CRONIN
Review Sports Writer

A proud, old name in Ohio Valley football became only a memory Saturday night.

Chester High's Panthers, a respected opponent in the game for generations, became only a symbol of a bygone era, probably with more than a little sadness on the part of loyal followers.

The community gave a farewell salute to the school's final varsity football squad at a banquet attended by 120 in the Masonic Temple, with fathers of the players as guests.

ALTHOUGH the Panthers finshed up things with a 3-6-1 record, the memoirs should include mention of some truly great seasons against some of West Virginia's better Class AA foes, and on occasion those of AAA rankings.

The Purple and Gold went unbeaten in two seasons, frequently lost only a game or two in others across the years, and produced three All - West Virginia players and numerous All-Ohio Valleys.

But, probably more important than the records or individual stardom, the school never has been regarded as an easy touch by opponents, even in lean seasons.

The Panthers undoubtedly will be recalled with the greatest of respect as the varsity grid program bows out in the face of progress.

—:—

CHESTER will join Newell and New Cumberland in a new consolidated building next season, marking the beginning of another era in athletics.

One of the performers at the new North Hancock High School probably will be Panther tackle Carl Gillespie, who was named "Most Valuable Player" at the fete for the 1962 season.

Coach Dom Amedeo compares the 190-pound junior lineman with John McKenzie and Bob Laughlin, who were all - state performers for the Panthers.

"Carl missed two games with a hip injury, but otherwise was a consistent performer throughout the year, plenty aggressive and a top defender," Amedeo said.

—:—

GILLESPIE was named last week to the Wheeling Intelligencer's "Small All - Valley" third team, drawing a tackle spot. He made the varsity as a frosh, and spent two seasons playing guard.

Principal R. M. McFarland, in making the award, said Gillespie's name will be added to a plaque in the school that lists winners of the MVP honor in the past.

The gathering heard one of West Virginia's most prominent gridiron coaches give the principal address.

CARL HAMILL, director of secondary physical education in the county system, said that "it's important to know both how to win, and how to lose".

He related he had a taste of both — losing while a player at Bethany College and winning while football coach at Weir High where he bagged several state championships.

A member of the West Virginia Hall of Fame, Hamill also told the squadmen not to forget education.

"I can't stress too much that you all work to your full capacity, because today, more than ever life is really competitive," he said.

"It is important that each of you come forth prepared to do a good job," the veteran coach told the squadmen.

"I think that athletics plays an important part in school life; you might say it is the practice field of life — pitting your physical and mental abilities against students of other schools," Hamill said.

—:—

"IN ATHLETICS, it is important to develop the ability to work hard and I think you fellows did that this past year even though you didn't win every game."

Hamill continued: "Life is like that, you have to learn to get up after you're knocked down, and carry out orders whether you like them or not."

The speaker added: "it is important to learn the ability of getting along with other people. You are not measured by your social standing of wealth, but measured in the final analysis by the love for your fellow man."

"No doubt you boys will come off with flying colors due to the type of coaches at Chester, who have given you something for later in life," he concluded.

HAMILL was perhaps referring to Amedeo, who has turned out well - conditioned, hard - hitting squads for the past eight seasons at Chester.

Amedeo, 45, has compiled a 39-29-7 win, loss record and coached at least seven players who were All - Valley choices and three all-staters to boot.

His greatest season came in 1959 when the Panthers won nine, lost only one. Chester showed only two defeats in two other seasons under Amedeo.

The school went unbeaten in 1927 (8-0) under Coach Ray Wilde, and in 1942 (7-0) under Coach Max Tuttle. The 1934 and 1938 teams finished 7-1.

—:—

AMEDEO was toastmaster and introduced squadmen and their fathers, Assistant Coach Dick Brian, Merrill Miller, scorer, Jerry D'Angelo, Harold Dickey, Dr. David Pugh, Mayor Harry Abrams, Roy Cashdollar, J. Demar Miller, and Dr. W. Dale Williams, John W. Boyd, Robert Miller, John Paul Jones and J. Fred Allison of the County Board of Education.

Gold footballs were awarded these seniors: Charles Mullen, Robert Myers, Kelsey Johnson, Dennis Spencer, Robert Taylor, John Williams, and Bill Shaffer, manager.

The Chester Football Mothers served with turkey featured on the menu. The Rev. C. Donald Vogel gave the invocation, and the Rev. Paul Dippolito gave the benediction.

Miss Sara Thomas and her staff of cheerleaders were also introduced.

Lopsided Foul Line Sends Salineville To 2nd Loss

A lopsided difference at the foul line was very evident in Salineville's 51-50 loss to Jewett Saturday night on the Jewett court.

Jewett attempted 40 and made 17 fouls, while Salineville went to the charity stripe only six times and made two. Coach Al Girone's Indians didn't get a one-and-one situation throughout the game.

Salineville had a 24-17 edge in field goals, but still went down to its second defeat in two nights.

The Indians led 13-12 at the end of the first quarter, increased it to 28-25 at halftime and were still on top 40-36 going into the final eight minutes.

Bob Whipkey was the big gun for Jewett with 22 points, while Glen Pitts dropped in 15 and Tom McGuire 14 to pace Salineville.

The Salineville reserves, who also didn't get a one-and-one situation in their game, walloped Jewett, 64-18.

Gillespie Named 'MVP' At Chester Grid Finale

By CHUCK CRONIN
Review Sports Writer

A proud, old name in Ohio Valley football became only a memory Saturday night.

Chester High's Panthers, a respected opponent in the game for generations, became only a symbol of a bygone era, probably with more than a little sadness on the part of loyal followers.

The community gave a farewell salute to the school's final varsity football squad at a banquet attended by 120 in the Masonic Temple, with fathers of the players as guests.

ALTHOUGH the Panthers finished up things with a 3-6-1 record, the memoirs should include mention of some truly great seasons against some of West Virginia's better Class AA foes, and on occasion those of AAA rankings.

The Purple and Gold went unbeaten in two seasons, frequently lost only a game or two in others across the years, and produced three All - West Virginia players and numerous All-Ohio Valleys.

But, probably more important than the records or individual stardom, the school never has been regarded as an easy touch by opponents, even in lean seasons.

The Panthers undoubtedly will be recalled with the greatest of respect as the varsity grid program bows out in the face of progress.

—:—

CHESTER will join Newell and New Cumberland in a new consolidated building next season, marking the beginning of another era in athletics.

One of the performers at the new North Hancock High School probably will be Panther tackle Carl Gillespie, who was named "Most Valuable Player" at the fete for the 1962 season.

Coach Dom Amedeo compares the 190-pound junior lineman with John McKenzie and Bob Laughlin, who were all - state performers for the Panthers.

"Carl missed two games with a hip injury, but otherwise was a consistent performer throughout the year, plenty aggressive and a top defender," Amedeo said.

—:—

GILLESPIE was named last week to the Wheeling Intelligencer's "Small All - Valley" third team, drawing a tackle spot. He made the varsity as a frosh, and spent two seasons playing guard.

Principal R. M. McFarland, in making the award, said Gillespie's name will be added to a plaque in the school that lists winners of the MVP honor in the past.

The gathering heard one of West Virginia's most prominent gridiron coaches give the principal address.

CARL HAMILL, director of secondary physical education in the county system, said that "it's important to know both how to win, and how to lose".

He related he had a taste of both — losing while a player at Bethany College and winning while football coach at Weir High where he bagged several state championships.

A member of the West Virginia Hall of Fame, Hamill also told the squadmen not to forget education.

"I can't stress too much that you all work to your full capacity, because today, more than ever life is really competitive," he said.

"It is important that each of you come forth prepared to do a good job," the veteran coach told the squadmen.

"I think that athletics plays an important part in school life; you might say it is the practice field of life — pitting your physical and mental abilities against students of other schools," Hamill said.

—:—

"IN ATHLETICS, it is important to develop the ability to work hard and I think you fellows did that this past year even though you didn't win every game."

Hamill continued: "Life is like that, you have to learn to get up after you're knocked down, and carry out orders whether you like them or not."

The speaker added: "it is important to learn the ability of getting along with other people. You are not measured by your social standing of wealth, but measured in the final analysis by the love for your fellow man."

"No doubt you boys will come off with flying colors due to the type of coaches at Chester, who have given you something for later in life," he concluded.

HAMILL was perhaps referring to Amedeo, who has turned out well - conditioned, hard - hitting squads for the past eight seasons at Chester.

Amedeo, 45, has compiled a 39-29-7 win, loss record and coached at least seven players who were All - Valley choices and three all-staters to boot.

His greatest season came in 1959 when the Panthers won nine, lost only one. Chester showed only two defeats in two other seasons under Amedeo.

The school went unbeaten in 1927 (8-0) under Coach Ray Wilde, and in 1942 (7-0) under Coach Max Tuttle. The 1934 and 1938 teams finished 7-1.

—:—

AMEDEO was toastmaster and introduced squadmen and their fathers, Assistant Coach Dick Brian, Merrill Miller, scorer, Jerry D'Angelo, Harold Dickey, Dr. David Pugh, Mayor Harry Abrams, Roy Cashdollar, J. Demar Miller, and Dr. W. Dale Williams, John W. Boyd, Robert Miller, John Paul Jones and J. Fred Allison of the County Board of Education.

Gold footballs were awarded these seniors: Charles Mullen, Robert Myers, Kelsey Johnson, Dennis Spencer, Robert Taylor, John Williams, and Bill Shaffer, manager.

The Chester Football Mothers served with turkey featured on the menu. The Rev. C. Donald Vogel gave the invocation, and the Rev. Paul Dippolito gave the benediction.

Miss Sara Thomas and her staff of cheerleaders were also introduced.

"It's impossible for Bob to think 'small'—I asked him to buy a shovel on his way home."

Junior Editors Quiz on HARNESS

QUESTION: How did they learn to make the bridle and bit?

★ ★ ★

ANSWER: The wooden yoke, the first practical harness, was used in Mesopotamia about 3000 B. C. to hitch donkeys to chariots and wagons. When horses arrived from Central Asia about 2000 B. C., it was tried out on them, but did not work too well. So the use of leather headstraps and reins with a metal bit was developed. Horses have a natural gap between the front and back teeth (B) through which a bar of metal may be slipped without discomfort to the horse. The reins pull on rings attached to this bar and as the bit pulls against the corner of his mouth, the horse's head turns and his body follows. It was soon found out that the jointed "snaffle bit" (D) was very effective; such a bit would be used with the Egyptian chariot horse shown in A. The invention of the cur bit (C) provided still more control. This can pull down on a horse's jaw causing him to stop at once, but it must be used gently, as otherwise it might hurt the jaw. First mentioned by the Greeks, this bit helped knights in armor control their horses and is still used in riding "Western style" today. The snaffle bit is also in use, especially when riding "English style."

★ ★ ★

FOR YOU TO DO: Be gentle with animals; you can get much more cooperation from them that way. The cowboy in our picture is a hard-fisted man, but he is proud of his ability to guide his horse by voice command and slight shifts of weight, only using the bit if he has to.

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. How can I warm left-over biscuits properly?

A. One good way to warm them is to sprinkle lightly with water, place in a pan, then in a larger pan of hot water, and place in the oven for a few minutes.

Q. Is there anything I can do to remedy a blanket that's too short for a bed, or for the occupant therein?

A. You can make this blanket usuable by sewing a 15-inch piece of flannel or flannelette to the bottom of the blanket. Nobody will notice it if you tuck the flfannel part under the foot of the bed — and the rest of the blanket will then be long enough for practical use.

Q. What is the best way to clean glazed tile?

A. Don't use harsh, abrasive cleansing powders on glazed tile or brick, since you could damage the finish beyond hope of repair. Instead, use soap and water and, if necessary, a non - abrasive cleansing powder.

Q. How can I remedy some sugar that has become hard and lumpy?

A. Put the sugar into a covered receptacle and place in the refrigerator for a few days. This will soften it.

Tito Goes To Moscow Amid Jibes Of Chinese

MOSCOW (AP)—President Tito of Yugoslavia, a Communist with strong neutralist overtones, headed today for Moscow talks with Soviet Premier Khrushchev accompanied by the taunts and jibes of the Peking radio.

The Tito party, including his wife Jovanka, left Budapest by special train at midnight after a brief but ceremonious stay in the Hungarian capital.

Tito's trip was billed as a vacation. It was not known if he would visit other cities before sitting down with Kremlin leaders for a discussion that is sure to include the rift in Moscow-Peking relations and its meaning for world Communist affairs.

As Tito's expedition got under way, the Peking radio blasted the "Tito group" and "its notorious supra-bloc policy" as "traitors of the proletariat and running dogs of U.S. imperialism."

Tito and Khrushchev last met in New York in 1960 at meetings of the U.N. General Assembly. The Yugoslav leader last visited the Soviet Union in 1956, in an upward climb in relations between the two countries since the sharp break during the Stalin era.

Aside from foreign policy, Tito probably will discuss economic problems with his Soviet hosts. Yugoslavia has been undergoing a difficult period, with food shortages as one problem. The United States agreed last week to help by providing 1.2 million tons of wheat.

Chinese commentaries attacked Tito's role as a neutralist in East-West battles and grew particularly incensed over what Peking called Yugoslavia's espousal of a neutralist Cuba. The Chinese were strong supporters of Prime Minister Fidel Castro in the recent crisis and made no effort to conceal their anger at Moscow's decision to withdraw the missiles and jet bombers the Russians had sent to Cuba.

The official Peking People's Daily said "for its meritorious service in opposing Cuba, the imperialists have given one bonus after another to the Tito group. The group has recently concluded agreements with the United States, Britain and France through which it obtained substantial loans."

The Chinese also violently rejected any mediation by Yugoslavia in the Chinese-Indian border conflict. The People's Daily accused Yugoslav Foreign Minister Koca Popovic of maneuvering in Cairo "to sabotage efforts made by the Chinese government and other Asian and African countries for a peaceful settlement."

That China's border war has shaken international communism was indicated again Sunday in a speech by Palmiro Togliatti, chief of the Italian Communist party, the largest in Western Europe.

Togliatti, who generally sides with the Kremlin, called China's war with India "unreasonable and absurd."

Togliatti also accused Red China and its European ally, Albania, of conducting a harmful "smear campaign" against world communism.

Nixon 'Not Dead' Eisenhower Says

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP)—Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower says his former vice president, Richard M. Nixon, is not dead politically despite his recent defeat for the California governorship.

In an interview at his vacation cottage here, Eisenhower said a candidate who can speak out on specific issues and avoid liberal and conservative labels can win the Republican presidential nomination in 1964. He declined to name his choice.

Eisenhower denied ever saying that Nixon was not presidential timber, but said he may have said in 1956 that Nixon was not ready for the presidency at that time.

Eisenhower was interviewed by Louis Harris, editor of the Augusta Chronicle, and Carroll Dadisman, Chronicle editorial writer.

Officer Trapped By Marked Bills

CLEVELAND (AP)—A veteran Cleveland patrolman was in jail today after admitting he opened a safe and took $67 in marked money his superiors said they had put there to trap him.

Police Chief Frank Story said Patrolman William Marlowe, 40, would be charged with burglary and larceny and would be suspended from the force on which he has served for 11 years.

Chief Story said Marlowe, a father of seven, was arrested early this morning when he came out of the Bahr Lumber Co. on the West Side.

Story quoted the patrolman as saying he had learned the combination of the locked safe earlier and took the money because he had lot of bills to pay.

Story said:

"The one saving grace in this thing is that a fellow patrolman turned him in and we had no outside help in solving this."

Nixon 'Not Dead' Eisenhower Says

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP)—Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower says his former vice president, Richard M. Nixon, is not dead politically despite his recent defeat for the California governorship.

In an interview at his vacation cottage here, Eisenhower said a candidate who can speak out on specific issues and avoid liberal and conservative labels can win the Republican presidential nomination in 1964. He declined to name his choice.

Eisenhower denied ever saying that Nixon was not presidential timber, but said he may have said in 1956 that Nixon was not ready for the presidency at that time.

Eisenhower was interviewed by Louis Harris, editor of the Augusta Chronicle, and Carroll Dadisman, Chronicle editorial writer.

Officer Trapped By Marked Bills

CLEVELAND (AP)—A veteran Cleveland patrolman was in jail today after admitting he opened a safe and took $67 in marked money his superiors said they had put there to trap him.

Police Chief Frank Story said Patrolman William Marlowe, 40, would be charged with burglary and larceny and would be suspended from the force on which he has served for 11 years.

Chief Story said Marlowe, a father of seven, was arrested early this morning when he came out of the Bahr Lumber Co. on the West Side.

Story quoted the patrolman as saying he had learned the combination of the locked safe earlier and took the money because he had lot of bills to pay.

Story said:

"The one saving grace in this thing is that a fellow patrolman turned him in and we had no outside help in solving this."
